LAUSCHE BEATS BENDER; O'NEILL WINS

Herbert Beats John Taylor

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Dwight D. Eisenhower swept to the biggest Ohio presidential election margin in 28 years in a broad Republican triumph successfully countered by Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche in the race for U.S. Senator.

Nearly complete returns put Eisenhower ahead of 750,000 ahead of Democrat Adlai E. Stevenson with more than three million Ohio votes counted.

That bettered Eisenhower's half-million-vote advantage in Ohio four years ago and approached the 763,336 margin of former President Herbert Hoover over Democrat Al Smith in the state's 1928 election.

Lausche beat incumbent Republican George H. Bender in the race for the old senate seat of the late Robert A. Taft, for whom the independent minded five-term governor said he voted in 1950.

Might Vote With GOP

And Lausche bolstered a hint that he might vote with Republicans to organize the next senate by issuing a victory statement saying: "I want to repeat what I frequently said in the campaign, that I will be an American first and a Democrat second."

Bender, who carried Eisenhower's endorsement, was elected in 1954 to serve out the last two years of Taft's six-year senate term.

Republican Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill defeated Democrat Michael V. DiSalle, former federal price controller, in a lopsided race for Governor. Most GOP candidates for statewide office also won.

Republicans retained their 17 seats in Ohio's 23-member congressional delegation and kept control of the state legislature.

Presidential Race

The presidential race between Eisenhower and Stevenson in 10,543 of Ohio's 12,097 polling places gave:

Eisenhower 1,958,619, Stevenson 1,221,235.

The senatorial test in 10,541 polling places gave:

Lausche 1,580,640, Bender 1,428,965.

In the gubernatorial event, 10,536 polling places gave:

O'Neill 1,677,346, DiSalle 1,313,612.

The complexion of the Ohio delegation to the house of representatives was unchanged—17 Republicans and six Democrats. Re-elected Tuesday were 22 incumbents. The only change was in the 11th district where Rep. Oliver P.

Soviet Union Seeks U. N. OK Of Their Plan

British, French Tell Troops To Cease-Fire Unless Attacked

LONDON (AP)—The Soviet Union offered today to send forces to throw the British, French and Israeli out of Egypt if the United Nations approved.

The new Russian threat of armed intervention, voiced by Marshal Georgi Zhukov, came on the heels of British and French orders to their troops in the Suez Canal zone to cease-fire unless attacked.

Six hours after the order to quit fighting was to take effect at 2 a. m. (6 p. m. CST, Tuesday), Allied headquarters on Cyprus said it had no information whether the shooting had actually stopped.

The first word of Egyptian acceptance of the British - French cease-fire came after daylight in a broadcast by the government-controlled Cairo radio. It told the people of Port Said an order to stop fighting had gone into effect at 2 a. m., but asserted Egyptian civilians and armed forces were free to resume the fighting "if the enemy shoots at any one or advances an inch."

Wanted Troops Withdrawn

Previously the Egyptians had made their acceptance of a U. N. cease-fire conditional on withdrawal of all foreign troops.

Zhukov, the Soviet defense minister, told a Moscow celebration of the Bolshevik Revolution anniversary that his government "calls on the United Nations resolutely to stop the armed aggression of Britain, France and Israel against Egypt."

He said the Soviet Union is prepared, "in accordance with a U. N. decision, to take a real part with her armed forces in the liquidation of this aggression."

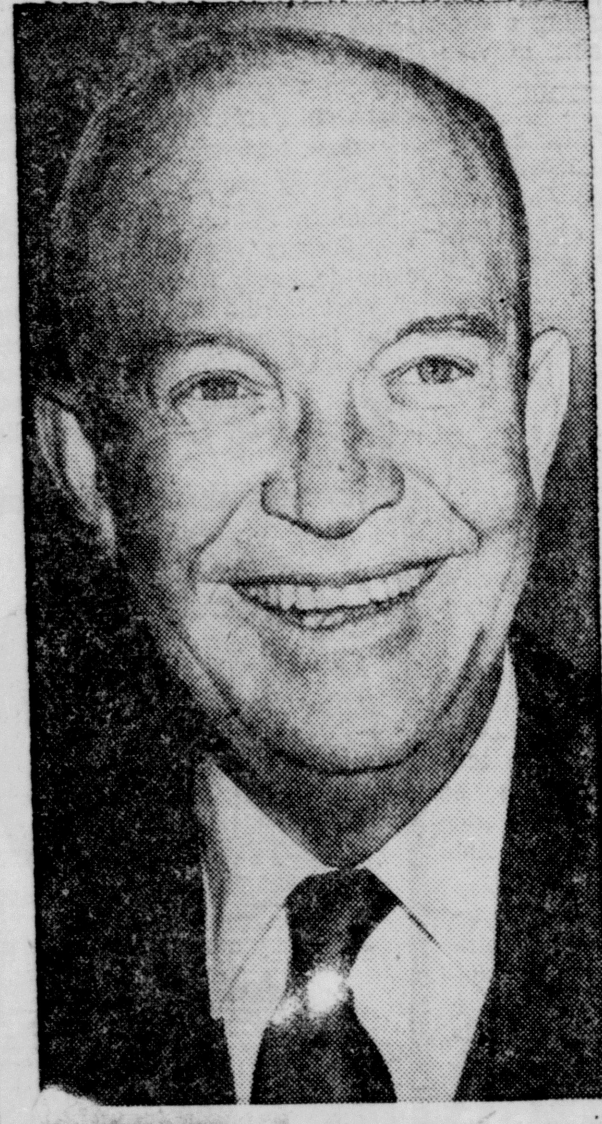

Such U. N. authorization for armed intervention appeared unlikely, however. The United States and the Security Council already have rejected a Soviet proposal for U. S. and Russian troops to go into Egypt. And Indian Prime Minister Nehru, a powerful influence on the key Asian-African bloc, also was opposed to movement of Soviet troops into Egypt.

British officials looked anxiously to the U. N. for quick action to shore up the cease-fire by moving an international police force into the canal zone. Officials said privately they still regarded the situation as explosive, with no firm guarantees so far against a fresh outbreak of fighting.

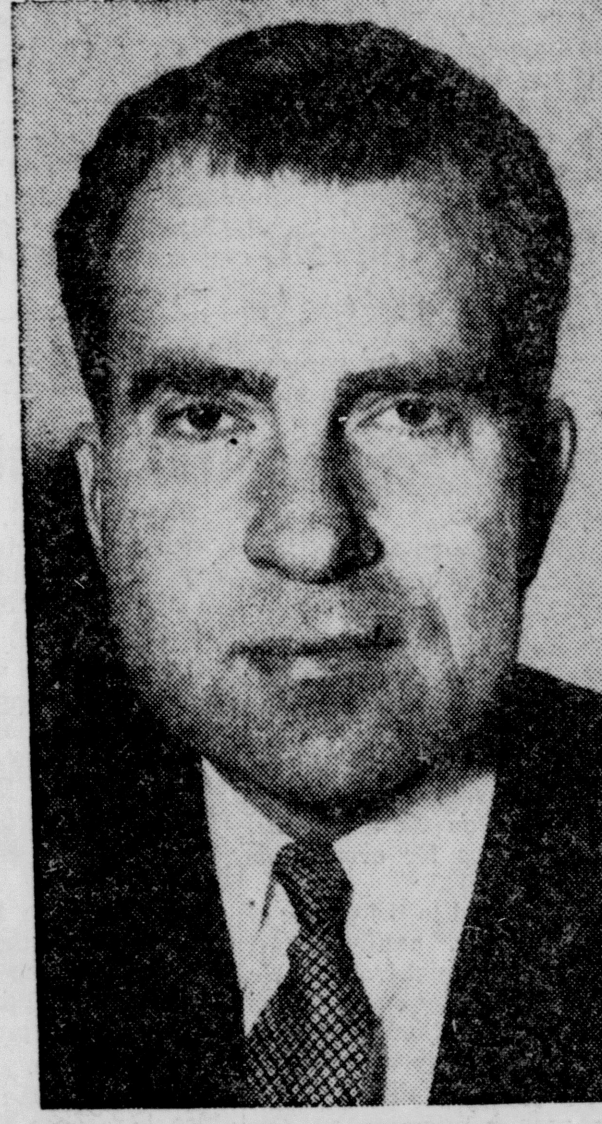

Won't Leave Zone

The British and French already had said they would not withdraw from the canal zone until the U. N. force could take over the waterway. Israel still gave no indication she would withdraw from Egypt's Sinai Peninsula, which the Israelis overran in their week-long invasion.

Brokaw, VanFossan Win As GOP Sweeps County Offices

Republicans swept all Columbiana County courthouse offices except one in Tuesday's balloting, with Atty. G. William Brokaw of East Liverpool being named prosecuting attorney and Chief Deputy Russell VanFossan being named sheriff, according to complete but unofficial returns.

County Treasurer Vincent C. Judge of Lisbon, overturning the heavy GOP trend, easily won election to a third term. He was the only successful Democrat on the county end of the ticket, defeating Richard Brian of East Liverpool 24,331 to 15,468.

Are Now Assistants

In the prosecutor and sheriff contests there was a case of stepping up from assistant in each instance. Atty. Brokaw is now assistant prosecuting attorney and VanFossan has been chief deputy for Sheriff Howard Clark who did not seek re-election.

Heavy majorities in the northern county area gave Atty. Hartford a 20,510 to 18,233 victory over Atty. Robert S. Hartford of East Palestine, the Democratic nominee.

The same overwhelming GOP support for Deputy VanFossan spelled defeat for Albert Kittridge of East Liverpool, former policeman who was the Democratic candidate. The northern and mid-county areas accounted for most of VanFossan's margin in his 25,032 total against 15,416 for Kittridge.

Incumbents Returned

Seven other Republican incumbents were returned: Commissioner W. A. Southan of East Liverpool and Walter A. Hunston of East Palestine; State Representative Clarence Wetzel of Lisbon, Court Clerk John W. Coleman of East Liverpool, Recorder Frances W. Morton of Wellsville, Engineer Charles O. Snyder of Salem and Coroner Ernest Sturgis of East Liverpool.

Snyder won a new term without opposition, scoring 29,706 votes to lead the GOP ticket.

The prosecutor race proved to be the most closely watched as returns streamed into the County Election Board's office. With 117 of the county's 149 precincts reported, Atty. Brokaw led by 1,500. Then there was a wait of over an hour for the count from 23 Salem district precincts which had cast more than 7,000 votes — enough to upset the lead. But Salem came through with a margin of about 700, insuring Atty. Brokaw of the office by more than 2,000. He will succeed Prosecutor James L. MacDonald.

Police Case in Limelight

The East Liverpool police burglary scandal provided an undercurrent for the campaign. Atty. Brokaw was in the forefront of the prosecution and Atty. Hartford was counsel for one of the defendants.

Although the prosecution was halted after the second successive not guilty verdict, Atty. Brokaw pledged to reopen the cases if he won the post. The September Grand Jury was recalled Monday to report next Tuesday to study a possible new indictment against one or more of the defendants.

The so-called police cases also figured in the sheriff's race. As a member of East Liverpool force, Kittridge helped develop the original lead in the case and Deputy VanFossan headed the investigation after the county took charge.

Kittridge carried his home town, 4,887 to 3,776 but the margin was not wide enough to overcome VanFossan's overwhelming vote in the northern end of the county. Kittridge also carried the 10 precincts in Liverpool and St. Clair townships, 1,638 to 1,388.

The rebound came in later returns. Columbiana's nine precincts gave VanFossan 2,198 to 668 for Kittridge. Salem's 23 precincts showed 4,663 for VanFossan and 2,366 for Kittridge. The East Palestine area, Deputy VanFossan's home territory, gave him 3,173 to 647 for Kittridge.

Rep. Wetzel rolled up 25,326 votes to win a new term in the state legislature over D. James Gaughn of Columbiana, Democrat, who polled 13,998. Gaughn is a restaurant and service station operator.

Leads Commissioner Race

Hunston led the four-man commissioner race, rolling up 21,989. Southan, his running mate, was close behind with 21,872.

Robert Barnett of Beloit RD 1, Democrat, was given 13,192 votes, and C. C. Leatherberry, former Wellsville mayor, polled 15,193 as the second Democratic contender. Barnett is a turkey and dairy farmer. The holdover commissioner is Galen Greenisen of near Salem, also a Republican.

Coleman was given 25,432 votes, overwhelming Edward Nelson of East Liverpool, the Democratic candidate for clerk of courts, who polled 13,737.

Democrats Lead In Race For Congress

By JACK BELL
Associated Press Staff Writer

President Eisenhower built up a margin of more than eight million votes today in his record smashing second term victory over Adlai Stevenson. But he appeared to be falling short of his goal of gaining a Republican congress.

The count of popular votes at 9:30 a. m. (EST) was Eisenhower 29,503,903, Stevenson 21,376,316.

Despite Eisenhower's landslide defeat of his Democratic opponent—a victory that might reach a nine million margin in popular votes, Democrats appeared to be pulling into a commanding lead in the battle for the House.

The Democrats also attained a favorable position in their efforts to retain control of the Senate.

At 10:30 a. m. (EST) the Democrats had elected 211 members to the House, only 7 short of a numerical majority, and were ahead in 22 of the undecided 39 contests. Republicans had won 185 seats and were ahead in 17 others. To attain the 218 needed for a majority, Republicans would have to win 33 of the outstanding 39 contests, many of them in normally Democratic areas.

35 Seats at Stake

In the 35 Senate contests decided in Tuesday's voting, Democrats had won 16 and Republicans 15, with the Democrats leading in the remaining 4. The Democrats have 31 holdovers and the Republicans 30, with 49 seats needed for Democratic control and only 48 for Republican control since Vice President Nixon has a tie-breaking vote.

The undecided Senate seats will be in Kentucky, Nevada, Oregon and South Dakota.

A surprising avalanche of ballots made it almost certain Eisenhower would win 41 states and 457 electoral votes. Only 266 are needed for election.

Four years ago, Eisenhower took 39 states and 422 electoral votes to Stevenson's 39. Tuesday Eisenhower added Louisiana, Kentucky and West Virginia to his 1952 list. But he seemed likely to lose Missouri, which he won four years ago.

Stevenson was crushed under a tremendous vote of confidence for the 66-year old President, who suffered a heart attack last year and underwent an abdominal operation last June.

Eisenhower's vote, pointing toward a possible nine million edge, compared with the 6,612,449 by which he won in 1952. The El-

6,648 City Voters Cast Ballots Here

Salem and Perry Township Tuesday overwhelmingly endorsed the renewal of the 4.5-mill school operating levy, but Salem voters gave bare approval to the one-half mill parks and playground levy.

The school levy, which will yield about $175,000 per year for five years, was approved by a vote of 5,236 to 1,756. It required only a majority vote for passage.

The parks and playground levy squeaked through by a vote of 3,597 to 2,281. The measure, which will provide $17,000 per year for five years, needed a 60 per cent affirmative vote for passage. It passed by a margin of 60 ballots.

Proceeds from the parks levy will be used for capital improvements at Kelley, Memorial and Centennial Parks and to acquire and equip a playground area in Ward 3.

Endorse Fire Truck Levy

Perry Township voters endorsed a 2.20-mill levy which will run two years and which will provide for the purchase of a fire truck to be housed at the Salem fire station. The levy was approved by a vote of 611 to 401. It required a 55 per cent affirmative vote for passage.

Township voters also approved an .80-mill fire protection levy, by a narrow vote of 613 to 395. The measure, which will be in effect for five years, needed a 60 per

Buzzard Named Judge For Second Court

Columbiana County voters yesterday chose Atty. Raymond S. Buzzard of East Liverpool to sit in the new common pleas judgeship which was created by the Ohio legislature.

Atty. Buzzard, a prominent Liverpool lawyer and civic leader, was elected over Atty. Guy Mauro of Salem by a vote of 20,293 to 15,618.

He will take office Jan. 1 in the new county post which pays $13,035 a year. It is a six-year term. The second common pleas court, which was sanctioned by the state in June, 1955, to become effective Jan. 1, 1957, will relieve a continually crowded court docket in the common pleas court of Judge Joel H. Sharp. Heretofore a visiting jurist, usually Judge Frank Cope of Carroll County, was assigned to hear a backlog of cases before Judge Sharp. Judge Sharp, a Salem resident, was elected in 1941 to fill a vacancy caused by the death of Judge W. F. Lones of Wellsville.

100 Persons Attend Columbiana Rotary Club Jamboree

Kiwanis Club Hears Story Of United States History

COLUMBIANA — About 100 attended the annual chicken pie jamboree of the Columbiana Rotary Club, Monday evening, served at Dixon School by the Parent Teacher Organization.

Area Rotary clubs represented were East Liverpool, East Palestine, Waynesburg, Hubbard, Boardman, Youngstown, Alliance, Sebring and Warren.

Attorney John L. Hutson, chairman of the Columbiana club's inter-club committee, presented Brainerd Metheny, general agent of the Fidelity Insurance Co. of Pittsburgh, as the entertainer. Metheny gave a program of magic and humor. A male quartet, Dr. W. D. Jones of Columbiana and Harvey Cadman, Ray Kinn and Kenny Wakeford, of Youngstown, sang several numbers.

Samuel H. Pollock of Steubenville, district governor of the Rotary area in Northeastern Ohio embracing Columbiana, spoke briefly. He will make his official visit to the Columbiana club Monday evening, Nov. 19.

PRINCIPAL Gayle Gloss of Columbiana High School presented the program at the meeting of the Kiwanis Club at Heck's restaurant, Monday evening. The program of records with Edward R. Murrow as narrator covered the period 1936-47 in U.S. history, and gave actual recordings of the voices of leading men of the time.

Amos Campbell, one of the delegates to the recent Ohio district convention of Kiwanis in Cincinnati, gave his report, deferred from the preceding Monday evening.

Walter Crawford, whose employment had prevented his participation in club activities for some time, was welcomed back as a member.

A highway program is planned for next Monday evening.

Panora Lodge of Odd Fellows will visit Amity Lodge in Salem tomorrow evening, and Concordia Lodge in Lisbon next Monday evening.

Reserved seats for the Columbiana - East Palestine game at Firestone Park stadium Friday evening are on sale at Wells' Drug Store.

All overseas veterans of World Wars I and II and Korean veterans are invited to a veterans day banquet and dance at the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post home, E. Friend St., from 7 to 10 p.m. Saturday. The smorgasbord-type banquet is free to any overseas veteran whether a member or not of the V. F. W. They may be accompanied by their wives or lady friends.

THE ANNUAL meeting of the Historical Society of Columbiana and Fairfield Township, postponed a month, will be held in the social rooms of Grace Evangelical and Reformed Church at 8:15 p.m. next Monday. Four trustees are to be elected for three-year terms. Those whose terms expire are E. B. Dillon, Roy Guy, Miss Estella Esterly and Mrs. Allan White. For entertainment, a record of the sesquicentennial pageant, "Singing Wheels," will be played. The public is invited.

Malcolm Heed, Methodist layman from Cleveland, prominent in the Ohio district of Kiwanis International, will be the speaker at the dinner of the Methodist Men's Club in the church basement at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Year-round use of Pavilion 4 in Firestone Park is planned by the park board, which is installing two gas heaters in the large room, that will seat 250 to 300. The pavilion is the largest in the park, and already has the advantages of two large fire places, electric ranges for cooking and indoor rest rooms. Inquiries from church and social groups influenced the board to act.

Priscilla Circle of the Christian Church will have election of officers at its meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the home of Mrs. Ray Ertow, 391 S. Main St. Mrs. Anna Lou Nolsheim will conduct devotions and Mrs. Ethel Herron will have charge of entertainment. Mrs. Gertrude Powers will be co-hostess.

Directors of the Columbiana Business and Professional Women's Club will meet in the Union Bank at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Columbiana County Schoolmasters Club will have its first meeting of the school year at Heck's restaurant, Columbiana, at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Today is the deadline for tickets to the American Legion veterans day banquet at Heck's at 7 p.m. Saturday. Columbiana County Council of the Legion will meet with Post 374 in East Liverpool at 8 p.m. Friday. Firestone Post members may meet at the Legion home at 7 for transportation.

O'Neill Grateful For Support Of Ohioans

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill, Republican winner in the race for governor, issued this victory statement today:

"I am grateful to the thousands of people all over the state who supported me.

"I want to pay tribute to Mike DiSalle for conducting a fine, clean campaign.

"This vote of confidence which the people have given represents a real challenge. Ohio has voted for progress.

"We must put the election behind us and unite all our talent and energy to do the things that need to be done for every Ohio citizen.

"I have pledged to the people of Ohio a dynamic, positive, 'get things done' administration. We will need the help of every person in our state. Worthwhile victory can be achieved only by having a successful administration."

TO ADDRESS CONVENTION

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—T. Coleman Andrews, former commissioner of internal revenue and advocate of federal tax reform, will address the 63rd convention of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce at Toledo Nov. 14. Other speakers include Dr. Clyde E. Williams, president of Battelle Memorial Institute in Columbus, and Andrew J. Biemiller, legislative representative of the AFL-CIO in Washington, D. C.

No Phones, City has Vote Count Problem

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—Scioto County, without telephone service, reported and counted its election returns by auto courier and Western Union.

J. B. Cole, veteran election board clerk, normally gets workers at each polling place to count presidential ballots first and telephone totals to the board so he can relay them by long distance telephone to the secretary of state in Columbus.

This year the telephones were out. About half the election workers made arrangements for auto couriers to drive to the courthouse here and report presidential totals. James Rose, Western Union manager, kept the Western Union office here open all night at the request of the secretary of state. It normally closes at midnight.

The election board's compilation of the sixth district congressman's race was delayed until the other eight counties can mail in results.

Wayne Morse Builds Lead In Oregon

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Sen. Wayne Morse, Democratic arch-enemy of the Eisenhower administration, built up a steadily increasing lead today in his fight for a third term.

While President Eisenhower was well ahead in the contest for Oregon's six electoral votes, Morse had a narrow lead over Doug McKay, Republican ex-governor who resigned as Secretary of the Interior to oppose Morse.

Incomplete returns from 1,877 of the 2,532 precincts gave Morse 194,361 to 179,033 for McKay.

President Eisenhower, in the same number of precincts, was ahead of Adlai Stevenson 212,194 to 164,098.

Forfeiting bonds were:

Kenneth Peifer, 34, of Wooster, $15, passing without the assured clear distance; Daniel Morris, 67, of West Fiffin, Pa., $15, passing at an intersection; James O. Lee, 18, of Cleveland, $15, reckless operation; and Charles H. Green, 44, of Youngstown, $15, crossing the yellow line.

DiSalle Says Loss Hard On Family

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Democrat Michael V. DiSalle today conceded defeat in his race for governor in these words:

"The election is over and we must return to the everyday pursuits of life.

"We worked as hard as we know how. We tried to take the issue to the people. We kept the campaign clean and reasonable.

"Having failed, we can only congratulate C. William O'Neill, the winner, and offer our cooperation. "Once I said that a candidate for office should be an unmarried orphan since the disappointment of losing is most severely visited on the parents, wife and children of the candidate. In this case, at least, the very fine family of Bill O'Neill will be happy. To them we wish our best.

"I want to thank the many good people who worked in our behalf, our contributors of time, money and good wishes. We will always try to be worthy of their trust and consideration."

Water Pumpage Decreases Here

Aubrey Hayes, superintendent of utilities, reported to Council Tuesday night that city water pumpage totaled 47,599,000 gallons during October, a decrease of 80,000 as compared with the 47,679,000 gallons pumped during October, 1955.

During the first 10 months of 1956 the amount of water pumped totaled 460,602,000 gallons while for the same period in 1955, the amount was 485,714,000 gallons.

Cash receipts for water last month amounted to $19,017 compared with $19,887 in October of last year. For the first 10 months of 1956, the total amount of money collected was $154,952; in the same period for 1955, the amount was $154,671.

Sewage cash receipts totaled $9,654.44 last month and $10,133 for October, 1955.

The first 10 months of 1956 showed a total collection of $77,870, with $68,794 collected during the same period in 1955.

Gov. Williams Is Re-Elected

Bucks Strong Tide For Ike In Michigan

DETROIT (AP)—Bucking a strong Gov. G. Mennen Williams crushed his Republican opponent Tuesday to win an unprecedented fifth term as Michigan governor. Apparently he carried the rest of the Democratic state ticket with him.

In 4,309 of the state's 5,171 precincts Williams polled 1,411,798 votes to Republican Albert Cobo's 1,170,019. Eisenhower collected 1,170,019.

G. Mennen Williams

450,733 to Adlai Stevenson's 1,159,813 in 4,314 precincts. Michigan has 20 electoral votes.

The Republicans may have picked up one congressional seat in the state. Republicans were elected in seven districts and led in five others. Democrats carried five districts and were leading in one. The present lineup is 11 Republicans and seven Democrats.

It was a striking triumph for the handsome, bow-tied heir to the fortunes of a family who is widely credited with presidential aspirations.

Cobo, whom Williams brushed aside, never before was defeated. Three times Cobo had been elected mayor of Detroit's non partisan government, and before that seven times as treasurer.

A remarkable aspect of the Williams victory was the way he whipped the popular Cobo in his home bailiwick. Williams carried Wayne County, which includes Detroit, approximately two to one.

GOP Takes Over In West Virginia

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—The Eisenhower landslide swept Democrats out of top offices in West Virginia for the first time since 1932.

The Republican president led the way, more than reversing Adlai Stevenson's margin of victory in the state four years ago.

Democrats, who outnumber Republicans on the registration books by more than a quarter of a million, streamed across party lines by the thousands to vote for President Eisenhower, Cecil H. Underwood for governor and Chapman Revercomb for U.S. Senate.

With returns in from 2,333 of the state's 2,810 precincts, Eisenhower had 378,608 and Stevenson 326,152. In 1952, Stevenson carried the state by 33,608 votes.

Revercomb, who was elected to the U.S. Senate in 1942 but was defeated for re-election six years later, defeated Gov. William C. Marland for the two remaining years of the term of Democrat Harley Kilgore, who died in office.

Ike Scores Upset Victory In Kentucky

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Sen. Earle C. Clements, never a loser in 36 years of campaigning, held on dramatically today in an election reversal that toppled his Democratic party's long rule in Kentucky.

President Eisenhower wrapped up the first Republican presidential endorsement voted by Kentuckians in 28 years and only the fourth in history.

John Sherman Cooper of Somerset wrote his ticket to Washington with a convincing triumph over former Gov. Lawrence W. Wetherby in one of two senatorial races.

Clements was locked with Republican Thurston B. Morton in a ballot-counting duel for the other senate seat.

The possibility of an extra Kentucky Republican seat in congress also bobbed into the picture. Scott Craft held a 24,483 to 22,270-vote lead over Democratic incumbent Carl Perkins in the seventh district with tabulations completed in 227 of 718 precincts.

Otherwise the congressional picture followed script, with one Republican and one Democrat elected and with Democrats leading in four districts they have controlled over the years.

Clements, assistant floor leader for his party, pulled into today's critical tabulating with a 5,122-vote edge over Morton, but the issue was far from settled.

Cleveland Voters Turn Down Tax Amendment

CLEVELAND (AP)—Defeat of a charter amendment which would have given the city authority to tax up to 12.55 mills for the next three years gave Cleveland's city administration a choice today of cutting city services or finding new sources of revenue.

The rejection by voters in Tuesday's election was by a margin of 125,164 against to 103,810 for, with 1,000 of 1,145 polling places reported.

The effect is to reduce the taxing authority to 8.35 mills, or 2.7 mills below the actual 1953-56 level. A city income tax already has been mentioned as a possible source to replace the revenue loss.

Voters also turned down a $2,700,000 bond issue for a municipal court building.

Adlai Knew He Couldn't Win

Stevenson Takes 2nd Defeat With A Smile On His Face

CHICAGO (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson took his second crushing defeat at the hands of Dwight D. Eisenhower today with a smile on his face and a quip on his lips.

It wasn't that it didn't hurt—he frankly confessed his disappointment before a nationwide TV audience—but you could tell he had known for days how it would all turn out.

But, he told hundreds of disheartened Stevenson volunteers jammed into the big Hotel Conrad Hilton ballroom—and millions who watched on their television sets—our cause will ultimately prevail.

Would he try for the presidency again?

"I'm a candidate for bed," he responded lightly to the reporter's query.

His more formal note was sounded shortly after midnight when he left his suite at the Sheraton-Blackstone Hotel and walked across the street to the Conrad Hilton to tell hundreds of mournful followers:

"To you who are disappointed tonight, let me confess that I am too. But we must not be disheartened, for 'There is radiance and glory in the darkness, could we but see, and to see, we have only to look.'"

A burst of applause welled up over the ballroom. Women wept openly. Men got out their handkerchiefs and blew their noses furiously.

This was a moment such as could only come at the hour of defeat for a presidential candidate whose followers hold him in endearment.

Stevenson, it may be said now, had known for days that he couldn't whip Eisenhower this year, just as he had known in advance the popular general of World War II would overwhelm him in 1952.

GOP Again Controls Ohio House, Senate

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Election returns compiled by the clerks of the two houses indicated Republicans will keep control of both the house and senate in the Ohio General Assembly which convenes in January. The GOP has dominated every legislature since 1950.

House Clerk Carl Guess said incomplete returns indicate a GOP gain in the house. He predicted Republicans will hold 90 to 100 seats in the house, a gain from the 89 they held in the 1955 legislature.

Senate Clerk Tom Bateman said the GOP will have a 22-12 edge in the state senate.

Two casualties of Tuesday's balloting, he reported, were veteran Sen. Robert A. Poock (R-Stark) and Sen. Edward H. Dell (D-Butler).

Peace! Peace!

There has been no peace in the Middle East because there has been too much ill will. There can be no peace between the natives and the British and French because good will is blotted out by jealousy, fear and greed.

Peace is more than an absence of war; that is no more than a truce.

Peace is a positive philosophy, a point of view, a way of thinking, a striving for good will.

The United States, which proposed the League of Nations and the United Nations, in the hope of ridding the world of its fears and hatreds so there might be real peace, is not without its own share of bad will.

But the United States has not fomented war in the Middle East. It has tried to pacify the would-be warmakers. It has used its influence to keep them from tearing at one another's throats. It has tried to cool off the age-old feud between the Arabs and the Jews. It has tried to keep Britain and France from reverting to their traditional reliance on gunboats and intrigue to dominate the remnants of their colonial empires in the Mediterranean basin.

It has had no success. There is no peace. The United States has peace at home, but that is tenuous and uncertain now. Men who want their own way and are willing to use military force to get it have asserted themselves. They have defied the peacemakers.

The fact they are identified as Israeli, British and Frenchmen this time does not make them less guilty than North Koreans, Communist Chinese or any other warmakers.

Rattling The Chains

Whatever small favors the Kremlin may have been willing to let the Hungarians have in the name of freedom were withdrawn when Hungarian revolutionists took freedom seriously and demanded more.

Another "people's republic" has learned the penalty of rattling its chains. The Kremlin again has confirmed the fact that the only workers of the world who should arise because they have nothing to lose but their chains are in countries the Kremlin is trying to destroy. Hungary has been a Communist-dominated "people's republic" since 1946. Before that it had been Germany's ally in World War II, with a government dominated by Nazis. Russian troops which have put down the rebellion against a moderate Communist regime are in Hungary because Russia invaded most of Hungary while driving out the Nazis in the late year of World War II.

A Hungarian desire for freedom is admirable. Hungary has been dominated by outsiders for a thousand years. Its chains have been longer or shorter, depending on varying historic circumstances. They may be cast off entirely some day, but not unless Hungary's independence can be guaranteed collectively by nations with no desire to dominate it.

These are not happy days for collective security anywhere.

Next Step

Every mention of the United Nations now is the signal of a fresh wish that it could have its own enforcement agency.

Until that step has been taken, the U. N. will continue to be an agency for adopting resolutions.

Its principles will be challenged by this practical action:

The U. N. helps those who help themselves; no others need apply.

Israel, having helped itself to get rid of Egyptian terrorists who crossed its border at will from the Sinai peninsula, now has security. It has military possession of an area three times as large as Israel itself and the prestige of a humiliating victory over Egypt, whose main forces were tied up by the Franco-British invasion.

A U. N. enforcement agency could have rid Israel of Egyptian terrorists without any violation of the U. N. Charter, which outlaws aggression. It could have kept the Israel issue out of U. S. and British politics, where it does not belong. It could have saved Britain, France and Israel from the risk of "taking the law into their own hands."

The League of Nations was the victim of inability to enforce its decisions; it therefore refused to make any, knowing they would be futile.

The United Nations is making decisions, hoping they may be enforced. But until it knows how they will be enforced, it must continue to do what it is about to do in the Middle East—merely make the most of what already has been done.

Why can't people be satisfied with the knowledge that they are at least not as old as they are going to be?

Change jobs all you want to, men, but you'll wind up working for the same people—the wife and kids.

Despite all the beautiful colors in the country these days, the most frequent among crazy drivers are black and blue.

Korea Action Recalled

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Britain, France Obligated To Act In Suez Crisis

When is the use of force "glorious," and when is it "inglorious"? When is an action taken alone by the United States, as in Korea, justified step to "repel aggression," and when is an action taken by Britain and France alone to stop a war in the Suez area which threatens their life line also a justified step to "repel aggression"?

These questions will be debated a long time, but within this country there is an unfortunate tendency to believe the British and French acted unjustifiably, although the record shows the United States adopted the same type of "police action" in June 1950.

Here, for example, is the language of a circular issued four years ago by the American Association for the United Nations — an organization which seeks to rally support for the U. N.:

"THE PLAIN TRUTH is that the United States was committed to fight in Korea, with or without the United Nations.

"The facts are that President Truman took the decision to throw American military weight against the aggressor in Korea hours before the Security Council met that Sunday in June some years ago.

"What the council did was to give the name, protection and moral backing of the United Nations to fight against the Communists and to call on its members to help in that fight.

"It transformed the Korean situation from a war involving the United States and the Communists to a war involving the United Nations and the Communists.

"That decision changed what millions of Asians might have come to think of as an 'imperialist' war into a United Nations war against aggression."

The foregoing was written by A. M. Rosenthal, New York Times correspondent at the United Nations, in 1952, and has been since used in widely distributed circulars as part of an educational campaign in support of U. N. objectives.

If in the next few days there is a cease-fire in the Middle East and the United Nations takes over in an effort to hold the line and work out a plan to correct the injustices arising out of Nasser's aggression in seizing the Suez Canal, the whole thing will become a United Nations action.

THE FACT THAT fighting occurred will not be officially condoned but the event will demonstrate once again that, unless the United Nations is prepared to organize an international military force of its own, the world will witness incidents in which some major power will have to take the initiative in repelling aggression and then turn the problem over to the U. N. to work out peacefully if it can.

When is the use of force justified? Historically, it has been justified when national interests have been at stake and negotiations have failed. The people of Hungary have won worldwide acclaim for their use of force against the Russian tyrants.

The General Assembly of the U. N. was impulsive in the resolutions adopted last week because it took note only of the British-French military action and did not emphasize that Nasser's seizure of the Suez Canal, in violation of the Treaty of 1888, was the original act of aggression which started the whole chain of events.

THE U. N. had ample opportunity to stop Nasser in his tracks by sending in a force of its own to take over the canal. Since nothing was done, Britain and France were obligated to take steps on their own.

The Egypt - Israel situation had grown worse due to Nasser's formation of a unified command in the Arab countries designed to wipe out the little state of Israel.

Under the circumstances, Britain and France decided to act on their own when Israel began to defend itself. President Eisenhower, while deploring what had happened, conceded that the British and French had a right to proceed as they did in defense of their interests.

Now the U. N. has the duty of taking over and especially of carrying through to the point of restoring the canal to some form of international control and also to assure the political independence and territorial integrity of Egypt and Israel so that future wars in the Middle East will be prevented.

It is significant that both Britain and France are agreeable to a plan which permits the U. N. to maintain possession and control of the canal while arrangements are worked out for a permanent solution.

This certainly shows that the objective of Britain and France was not to do more than protect the canal as the Treaty of 1888 obligated the signatory nations to do.

Brood And Bitter Letter

By TRUMAN TWILL

One of the most challenging writing assignments for the novice is the bread-and-butter letter—the honey-dripping note of gratitude that is supposed to arrive within a few days after the host and hostess have speeded the departed guest.

Naturally, the formal bread-and-butter letter leaves many things unsaid.

A brood-and-bitter letter would read like this, if it were written.

Dear Friends:

Everything went fine on the return journey. It was such a relief to know that I would soon be back in familiar and comfortable surroundings where I could get up when I felt like it, go to bed when I was sleepy and eat the things I am accustomed to eat.

That reminds me that I wanted to ask you how you prepared that broccoli and fish casserole mixture you enjoyed so much the last night I was there. I want to make sure it never crosses my mind again.

I am afraid I must have caused a lot of unnecessary work while I stayed with you. But you could have spared yourself the trouble of putting the rocks in the mattress on my bed and tacking down the bed clothing so firmly that my muscles are still sore from my all-night struggles. I didn't ask for that.

And it wasn't necessary to pile out at the crack of dawn to fix what I presume was your version of a hearty breakfast. I could tell by the way you made a big deal of it that you go to no trouble at all when you are by yourselves. I did not want half the stuff you shoved out and suffered from gastritis every day I was with you as the penalty for pretending I like hot biscuits at 7:30 a.m. Whatever gave you that idea?

It was interesting and educational to meet the friends you invited to your house. Those are your friends? Surely they do not represent the best you have been able to do after living so long in one community. I found them as tattered, tired, drab, lumpy and repelling as their appearance hinted they would be.

But I always try to make the best of every situation in which I find myself, and this one was a real challenge. You must remind me sometime to tell you some of the tidbits I picked up from that quaint woman who wore the queer hat with the feathers she sucked into her mouth whenever she stopped talking long enough to gasp for air. Most of them were about you. Who else?

I shall not soon forget my visit—the weird sounds of the neighborhood in which you live, for instance. You are accustomed to them, I suppose, though how anyone ever gets accustomed to shrieks at 3 a.m. is beyond me. And I shall long remember your remarkable dog, Toothsome. My doctor tells me the scars he left on my leg will go with me to my grave, which seemed closer when Toothsome was gnawing on my gums than it ever had seemed before.

You have such an interesting way of living that I cannot put it out of my mind. It reminds me of a travelog I saw many years ago of the Australian back-country. But of course they did not have such modern advantages as TV sets they stayed glued to every waking hour. Or broccoli and fish mixtures.

Be sure to look me up if you come this way. I am in the phone book but am having the number changed. Thank you for your good intentions anyway.

A VOTE OF CONFIDENCE

Lessons Learned From History

By RAYMOND MOLEY

At a moment like this, when immediate issues are clouded in conflicting reports from Europe and the Middle East and, at this writing, the results of the election here are still unknown, it may be the part of wisdom to consider some of the lessons of history.

Last week, after a speech in one of the most cosmopolitan districts of New York City, I was asked by a young man of Hungarian descent what I thought about the future of the Soviet power and of the satellite nations.

My answer was that the present events confirm an old historical rule: that empires crumble at their peripheries, and that nationalism will always triumph over ideology.

My further suggestion was that the young man read and ponder the early chapters of Gibbon's "Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire."

The first chapter of that immortal work may provide readers with a blessed relief after months of hearing and reading what speech writers have prepared for the presidential candidates.

Gibbon was writing of that golden moment in the second century of the Christian era, when the Empire of Rome "comprehended the fairest part of the earth."

The author reminds us that the principal conquests of the Romans were achieved under the republic, and the emperors for the most part were satisfied with preserving the dominions thus acquired.

Indeed, from the death of Augustus onward, the boundaries were never permanently enlarged. Some conquests were added which were soon abandoned.

Augustus himself, in his last testament, which was read in the Senate, advised his successors to confine the imperial boundaries to "those limits which nature not man had decreed as bulwarks."

"It was reserved for Augustus to relinquish the ambitious design of subduing the whole earth, and to introduce a spirit of moderation into the public councils.

"Inclined to peace by his temper and situation, it was easy for him to discover that Rome, in her present exalted situation, had much less to hope than to fear from the chance of arms; and that in the prosecution of remote wars, the undertaking became every day more difficult, the event more doubtful, and the possession more precarious, and less beneficial . . .

"Happily for the repose of mankind," the moderate system recommended by the wisdom of Augustus, was adopted by his immediate successors.

"Engaged in the pursuit of pleasure, or in the exercise of tyranny, the first Caesars seldom showed themselves to the armies, or to the provinces; nor were they disposed to suffer, that those triumphs which their indolence neglected should be usurped by the conduct and valor of their lieutenants . . . it became the duty, as well as the interest of every Roman general, to guard the frontiers entrusted to his care, without aspiring to conquests which might have proved no less fatal to himself than to the vanquished barbarians."

Under this policy which was beneficial while at the same time it ministered to arts and pleasures and security of peace, the Roman Empire managed to live through a slow decline for a long time.

This is a policy which, it seems, has been lost on the past and present rulers of the Kremlin.

Instead of using what surplus there might be to maintain a rising standard of living at home, they have madly spent vast sums on maintaining a police rule in satellites whose populations have grown to hate them more and more.

In an insane belief that some solvent for the world's needs might be found in universal Marxism as interpreted by Lenin and Stalin, they have nourished the delusion that ideology can supplant nationality and self-government.

The result is bound to be the shattering of this monstrous power in a fraction of the time which the decline and death of Rome required.

The struggle to keep the satellites as well as the struggle for personal power in the Kremlin may be very dangerous to the peace of the world. But it is the convulsion attendant upon decline and death, rather than the energy of growing power.

Painless Financing

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK — Living it up painlessly is the goal today of an increasing number of Americans. First Uncle Sam gave a helping hand. Now it's the banks, although mostly with reluctance.

For some time living it up has been an American habit—meaning, living up the current and expected income by budgeting it carefully and prearranging it on the installment plan. For most this means determining over just how many different weekly or monthly payments the paycheck will stretch. For the cautious it also means leaving a few dollars leeway for emergencies.

Painless dentistry has entered this way of life increasing of late. This consists in essence of making the payments as nearly unnoticed as possible — by having them extracted either from the paycheck itself or by prearranged bank payments without troubling the debtor.

Uncle Sam gave the movement its first big boost when he had employers deduct income tax and social security payments from paychecks. As one result, many persons know only vaguely what percentage of their income goes for taxes.

Many other deductions can be made. You can arrange similarly for payment of union dues, contributions to pension programs and purchase of savings bonds or of stock in the company where you work.

You never get your hands on the total amount you're told your employer is paying you—or, to put it in the terms in which management sees it, on the amount it costs the company to have you around.

Accustomed to this, many Americans began budgeting to see just how many payments the remaining income would cover. Their standard of living is now determined not so much by what the wage earner makes but by how much he dares to owe.

This policy is popular because for many families it has worked well. It is popular with manufacturers because it is the way that the most goods with high price tags can be sold. And this is a way of life that is widely credited with bringing American industrialism to its present high state of prosperity.

The one painful thing has been the relentless arrival of the periodic payment time. The remedy now catching on is to arrange with the company you owe and with your bank for regular and automatic prepayment. This preauthorized check plan has been tried for paying such regularly recurring items as insurance premiums and utility bills.

So They Say

I am not going to be responsible for kicking out the President of the United States. — Philadelphia's ardently Democratic Mayor Richardson Dilworth, settling hassle over use of Convention Hall November 1 by either Stevenson, or Eisenhower, in favor of GOP.

Both of my ankles are black and blue from rolling champagne bottles. A bunch of us were in the Veranda Grill (on the liner Queen Mary) when (a hurricane) struck. It sobered us up considerably. — Actress June Haver, explaining her sore ankles on disembarking in New York.

Clearly we are over the hump. I believe that . . . the future in agriculture looks better — more promising and more dependable — than at any time in this generation. — President Eisenhower.

There has been much evil in those years. These (seven years of Soviet control in Poland) constitute a closed historical period in the irrevocable past. — Wladyslaw Gomulka, new First Secretary of the Polish Communist party.

The angry hum of a locust-swarm of partisan oratory is rising in a strange, sad song—about a feeble and fretful America . . . I wonder if the cry of the political opposition is not simply this: Things in America are rapidly going from bad — to good. — President Eisenhower.

I'll never forget that moment in all my life when the Hungarians with bare hands and without fear marched against the Soviet tanks. They died for the freedom of their country. — Helen Filitz, an Austrian tourist, returns from Budapest.

Looking at the shape the world is in these days, it seems that grandpa didn't have it too tough, after all. He had his troubles but they were always in places he had heard of before and could be located on any average Rand McNally map.

His hours were long but his commutes were short.

He might get into a fight now and then but he was never surrounded by them.

The old man had a struggle to make both ends meet. But one end wasn't in Singapore and the other end in Tanganyika.

He had his problems but they were not in the Sinai Peninsula, Bangkok, or Bizerte.

He was threatened by germs, epidemics, and bad sanitation, but not by dictators, conspirators and double-talkers.

Grandpop had a tougher battle for existence. But it covered less territory.

He had fewer diversions. But the ones he had weren't interrupted by any crisis in Johannesburg, Djibouti or Port Said.

He wasn't long on higher education but he was smart enough to keep out of trouble in places he couldn't even pronounce.

He had headaches but they were not global.

Grandpappy had no radio. This compelled him to concentrate on local issues instead of obligating him to become all tangled up in international hassles.

He never heard of television. By the time he got any pictures of war in Asia, Africa or Europe the war was over.

He knew the hardships from a blight on the potato and corn crop and he was often down to the last slab of pork. But his worries weren't added to by an atomic bomb threat.

He had to watch out for Indians, bears and an occasional bobcat, but they were not radioactive and there was no danger from a "fall-out."

He suffered blizzards, floods, and cyclones but he never experienced them in Okinawa, North Korea, Cyprus, Greenland or the North Pole.

Grandpa knew hard times and tough going. But he could get out of them without any U. N. debates.

He didn't live as long as people today but he lived farther from the training camp, the Nike installation and the air base.

He couldn't get much farther than a horse and buggy would carry him. This was a great break for him and the horse.

He didn't have many comforts, but such as he had weren't supplied by the Army or Navy.

He had to get along with a candle or kerosene lamp. This absence of long range views and far horizons kept him out of a lot of trouble.

His communications were limited. This kept him out of trouble with anybody 5,000 miles away.

Grandma wasn't so badly off either. No matter what fight grandpa got called into, she never had to send letters to him in Tibet, Rangoon or the Casbah. And none of their kids ever had to be rescued from the Suez Canal Zone.

Clark Beats Duff; Ike Wins In Pennsylvania

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—President Eisenhower scored an overwhelming victory in Pennsylvania's election but Republican James H. Duff lost his U.S. Senate seat to Democrat Joseph S. Clark in a stunning exception to the GOP landslide.

Eisenhower rolled up a staggering 570,000 plurality over Adlai Stevenson—300,000 more than his margin four years ago.

Clark, the 55-year-old former mayor of Philadelphia, on the basis of nearly complete returns was a 30,000-vote winner over Duff.

With 8670 of the state's 8808 precincts reported, the count was: Eisenhower 2,505,434; Stevenson 1,934,781.

It was far and away the biggest presidential vote spread since the Franklin D. Roosevelt win over Republican Alf Landon 20 years ago.

Eisenhower's total was the largest presidential vote ever recorded in the state.

Joseph S. Clark

But later he disavowed the statement.

In opening arguments last Monday, defense Atty. William F. Hopkins indicated the case for the defendant will be built around efforts to prove the statement is false and untrue and that police "discarded all threads of (Lyons') innocence."

Cincinnati Murder Trial To Resume

CINCINNATI (AP)—Photographs of the victim and testimony on technical data are planned in resumption of the murder trial of Robert V. Lyons today.

It will be the first full day of testimony. Trial was recessed over Election Day.

Lyons, 43, former city water meter reader, is charged with first degree murder in the knife-slaying of Mrs. Audrey Evers Pugh, wife of a printing firm executive, in her home in exclusive Hyde Park.

Some of the pictures that the jury will see today were taken at the Pugh home. Others were made by Dr. Frank Cleveland, coroner's pathologist, who is slated to describe the 23 wounds found on the woman's body and tell the cause of death.

Lyons, who was not arrested until more than a month after the murder last April 11, spent what police said was a "quiet day" Tuesday. Officers said he did not vote, and had not obtained an absentee ballot.

Police said the former city worker admitted in a statement that he killed Mrs. Pugh after she censured him for seeking entrance to the house at the wrong door.

Democrats Gain One Governor

By The Associated Press

With five races not finally decided, Democrats today had wrested four governorships from the Republicans while losing three to the GOP.

Before Tuesday's election, Democrats held 27 statehouses, the Republicans 21.

In the 30 states which chose governors this year, the Democrats captured at least 13 and the Republicans at least 12.

Seven states switched parties in the governor's chair. Democrats won governorships from Republicans in Massachusetts, Iowa, Kansas and Washington, Arizona, Arkansas, Colorado, Florida, Maine, Michigan, Missouri, North Carolina and Texas stayed Democratic. Kansas chose its first Democratic governor in 20 years.

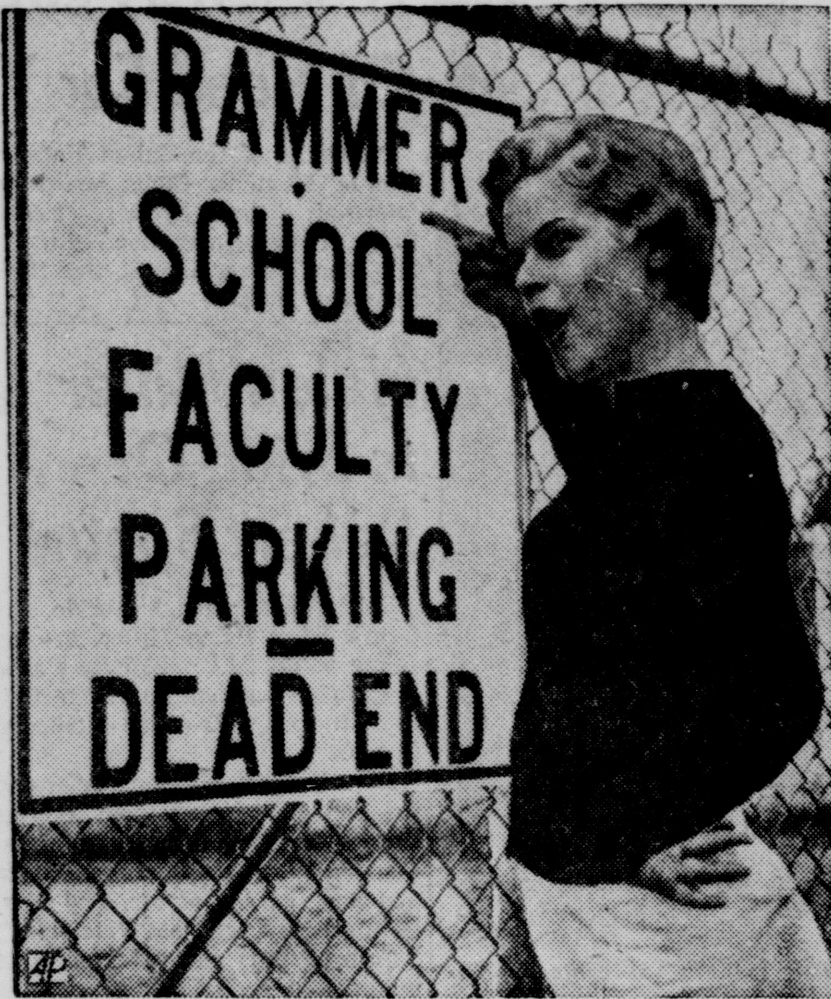

In New Mexico, Ohio and West Virginia, Republicans took over from Democrats. Delaware, Indiana, Nebraska, New Hampshire, North Dakota, South Dakota, Utah, Vermont and Wisconsin stayed Republican.

West Virginia elected Cecil Underwood, 34, as its first Republican governor since 1928. He defeated Democratic Rep. Robert H. Mollohan for the chair vacated by Gov. William C. Marland, who made an unsuccessful race for the Senate.

Two Midwest farm states—Iowa and Kansas—turned to Democratic governors. In Iowa, Gov. Leo A. Hoegh bowed to Democrat Herschel C. Loveless. In Kansas, Democrat George Docking, a banker, defeated Republican Warren W. Shaw, an attorney, who had defeated Gov. Fred Hall in the primary.

Foster Furcolo, a Democrat who failed in a try for the Senate two years ago, won the gubernatorial election in Massachusetts, defeating Sumner G. Whittier, Republican Gov. Christian Herter did not run again.

In Ohio, Republican State Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill defeated Michael V. DiSalle, Democrat who once was federal price control director. Democratic Gov. Frank SPELLER NEEDED—Judging by this sign on fence of grammar school in Tempe, Arizona, the sign man should be sent to join the spelling class. Joy Dryer points up the error.

Lausche ran a successful race for the Senate.

Republican Former Gov. Edwin L. Mechem of New Mexico unseated Democratic Gov. John F. Simms, who was running for a second term.

Democrat Albert D. Rosellini won in Washington over Republican Emmett T. Anderson. Incumbent Republican Gov. Arthur B. Langlie ran for the Senate.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan won an unprecedented fifth term, defeating Albert E. Cobo, three-time mayor of Detroit.

Ike, Javits Win New York Vote

NEW YORK (AP)—President Eisenhower piled up a plurality of approximately 1,500,000 votes over Adlai Stevenson in winning New York's 45 electoral votes.

The Republicans also gained a seat in the U.S. Senate as Atty. Gen. Jacob K. Javits defeated Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York, Democratic-Liberal candidate, by some 450,000.

Returns today from 11,071 of the state's 11,132 election districts, with traditionally Democratic New York City complete, gave:

For President—Eisenhower 4,286,301; Stevenson 2,731,562.

For the senate—Javits 3,679,150; Wagner 3,240,932.

Javits will succeed retiring

President Wins In Illinois; Stratton Leads

CHICAGO (AP)—President Eisenhower won a smashing triumph in Tuesday's election in Illinois and indications were that Republican state and national candidates rode to victory with him.

With results not complete, returns indicated a sweep of major offices for the GOP throughout the state, including Chicago, the normally Democratic stronghold.

Eisenhower, duplicating his performance of four years ago against Democrat Adlai E. Stevenson, won the state's 27 electoral votes. His victory over the former governor of Illinois may exceed his 1952 total of some 440,000.

Republican Gov. William G. Stratton, with a tremendous burst of strength during the night after trailing far behind his Democratic opponent, appeared headed for reelection. U. S. Sen. Everett M. Dirksen also trailing in the early counting, piled up a wide margin during the night.

The 42-year-old governor, seeking a second four-year term, at one time in the early counting was some 170,000 votes behind Richard B. Austin, a Democratic Superior Court judge of Chicago. Austin, making his first state-wide race, piled up a big lead in the first returns, the bulk of them from Chicago and Cook county.

But the traditionally Republican downstate precincts slowly turned Stratton's apparent defeat into what looked like victory for the governor. Thirteen hours after the polls closed at 5 p.m., Stratton took over the lead with reports from 7,540 of the state's 9,588 precincts.

Firemen's Meeting Interrupted By Blaze

WEST POINT—West Point volunteer firemen's regular meeting was interrupted by an alarm when a motorist stopped at Carney's Gas Station while the session was in progress and reported a truck on fire about 4½ miles south of Lisbon on Rt. 30.

Thirteen firemen answered the alarm but the fire was out when they arrived. Minor damage was caused.

Jack Pozenel, president, presided over the routine business meeting.

The next meeting will be Tuesday, Nov. 20, at Carney's Station.

Chief Clearwater say:

"River water belong in river ... not in beer bottle"

Did you ever wonder why some people buy bottled well water? It's because they can't stand the taste of chemically treated river water. You know what that taste is like. The water in beer is awfully important, too, so we do not use river water for Fort Pitt. We use water from our own deep wells. In fact, Fort Pitt Special is the only Pittsburgh beer brewed with pure artesian well water. That's one of the big reasons why it tastes better. Try a case today.

Amvets and their Auxiliary installed new officers Saturday night at a dinner meeting at the Lape Hotel. There were 80 present.

New officers of the Amvets are: Commander, Carl Sobotka; first vice commander, Torch Nedelka; second vice commander, Jerry Smith; third vice commander, Fred Roth.

Adjutant, Don Smith; judge advocate, Morrison Luce; service officer, Mike Oana; provost marshal, William Hull; chaplain, John Detell. State Vice Commander Art Deckant of Youngstown was installing officer.

Auxiliary officers installed are: President, Mrs. Torch Nedelka, second term; senior vice president, Mrs. Clair Royle; junior vice president, Mrs. Robert Shoe; secretary, Mrs. Dave Kachner; treasurer, Mrs. Don Smith.

Chaplain, Mrs. Melvin Wukotich; public relations officer and parliamentarian, Mrs. Mike Oana; sergeant at arms, Mrs. Shoe; liaison officer, Mrs. Earl Schory. Mrs. Oana, installing officer, is national hospital chairman.

Rev. A. Laten Carter gave the invocation and the welcome was given by the retiring commander, George McFeely. Mike Oana served as toastmaster. He introduced Mayor and Mrs. Dean Cranmer; the state finance officer, William Cummings of Massillon; Mrs. Shirley Greenfelder, Ohio Department Auxiliary junior vice president; Mrs. William Cummings, state auxiliary parliamentarian; and Mrs. Robert Talbot, president of the local Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary.

Past commander pins were given to service were Lorain Youngstown 34, 35 and 44; Massillon and Boardman.

Past commander pins were given to George McFeely and Mike Oana.

Each of the auxiliary officers presented received a corsage, and Mrs. Nedelka presented her officers with gifts of jewelry. The auxiliary presented Mrs. Nedelka a gift in appreciation of her work throughout the past term. Mrs. Oana also was presented a gift in honor of her national office.

In closing the program, a memorial service was held in honor of four deceased members, Andrew Fromm, Robert Pilmer, James Appedison, and Harry Tennyson, and for honorary members, Joseph Kelley, James Primm Sr.

The charter was draped, and a carnation for each member was placed on the Bible. An additional carnation was placed in memory of all deceased veterans. Rev. Carter pronounced the benediction.

Following the program, the group adjourned to the Amvet Post home for a social hour. Dancing was enjoyed, and refreshments were served.

The Amvets will meet Nov. 14 in the post home. The Auxiliary will meet Nov. 13.

The Auxiliary is sponsoring a benefit dinner Sunday from 4 to 7 p.m. for Amvets and their families and friends.

Women's Federation Hears Of Need For Y.W.C.A. Here

Delegates of the Salem Federation of Women's Clubs heard an informative talk by Mrs. Frank Brian at the regular monthly meeting Monday evening at the Ruth Smucker House.

She explained the need of a Y.W.C.A. for Salem and also stated the necessity of starting to construct a Y.W.C.A. building by Jan. 3, 1958, in order to receive the bequest of the late Mrs. Edith Ritz.

To gain additional funds for construction, a Y.W.C.A. membership drive will be held early in December. Details will be given individual clubs in the near future.

Miss Ruth Hoch of the Business and Professional Women's Clubs introduced Miss Helen Harp of Cleveland, supervisor of the film department of the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. Miss Harp offered the free use of the Ohio Bell Film Library and projectors, which are available through the Salem office. The films pertain to many cultural and educational fields.

She also explained briefly the Telezonia course given in the schools. The telephone company will be hosts to the delegates at the regular meeting Dec. 3 at its office here.

Mrs. Joel H. Sharp presided at the business meeting. She acknowledged the presence of the following presidents: Mrs. Bud Boals, Democratic Women's Association; Mrs. Thomas Kneifel, Beta Psi Chapter; Mrs. George Jones, Salem Garden Club; Mrs. Roy Meyer, Music Study Club; Mrs. George Huston, Republican Women's Association; Mrs. Clifford Ayers, Xi Gamma chapter; Mrs. Harold Musser, Travelers Club; and Mrs. August Ibele of the Quota Club.

A check from the Youngstown Kitchens Division of the American Radiator and Standard Sanitary Corp. was received after an interesting display of new kitchen sink tops was shown to 69 federation members Oct. 16 at the factory's local display room. Special prizes were given to Mrs. Vernon Broomall of the Leornians and Mrs. Clyde McFeely of Garden Study Club.

The house committee chairman, Mrs. George Bunn, reported that a plate glass top had been purchased for the piano in the Smucker House, and that a table pad was given by Mrs. Joseph Bogar for use on the drop leaf table, which she recently presented to the federation.

The assistant secretary - treasurer, Mrs. Martin Lee Roth of Xi Gamma Chapter requested that the junior delegate of each member club bring membership changes to the federation meeting every month.

The proposed by-laws changes were given second readings by the secretary, Mrs. J. Lee Pelley of the B. & P.W. Club and were accepted by the unanimous vote of the delegates.

Mrs. Homer Taylor of the Salem Music Study Club was appointed social chairman of the federation by Mrs. Sharp.

Floral decorations were arranged by Mrs. Carl Flickinger of the Salem Garden Club and Mrs. George Peterson of the Garden Study Club.

Hostesses for the social hour were Mrs. Pelley and Mrs. Robert Entriokin of the B. & P.W. Club, and Mrs. Charles Oertel and Mrs. Edith Archibald of the Phoebe Frances Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Delegates of the Salem Federation of Women's Clubs heard an informative talk by Mrs. Frank Brian at the regular monthly meeting Monday evening at the Ruth Smucker House.

She explained the need of a Y.W.C.A. for Salem and also stated the necessity of starting to construct a Y.W.C.A. building by Jan. 3, 1958, in order to receive the bequest of the late Mrs. Edith Ritz.

To gain additional funds for construction, a Y.W.C.A. membership drive will be held early in December. Details will be given individual clubs in the near future.

Miss Ruth Hoch of the Business and Professional Women's Clubs introduced Miss Helen Harp of Cleveland, supervisor of the film department of the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. Miss Harp offered the free use of the Ohio Bell Film Library and projectors, which are available through the Salem office. The films pertain to many cultural and educational fields.

She also explained briefly the Telezonia course given in the schools. The telephone company will be hosts to the delegates at the regular meeting Dec. 3 at its office here.

Mrs. Joel H. Sharp presided at the business meeting. She acknowledged the presence of the following presidents: Mrs. Bud Boals, Democratic Women's Association; Mrs. Thomas Kneifel, Beta Psi Chapter; Mrs. George Jones, Salem Garden Club; Mrs. Roy Meyer, Music Study Club; Mrs. George Huston, Republican Women's Association; Mrs. Clifford Ayers, Xi Gamma chapter; Mrs. Harold Musser, Travelers Club; and Mrs. August Ibele of the Quota Club.

A check from the Youngstown Kitchens Division of the American Radiator and Standard Sanitary Corp. was received after an interesting display of new kitchen sink tops was shown to 69 federation members Oct. 16 at the factory's local display room. Special prizes were given to Mrs. Vernon Broomall of the Leornians and Mrs. Clyde McFeely of Garden Study Club.

The house committee chairman, Mrs. George Bunn, reported that a plate glass top had been purchased for the piano in the Smucker House, and that a table pad was given by Mrs. Joseph Bogar for use on the drop leaf table, which she recently presented to the federation.

The assistant secretary - treasurer, Mrs. Martin Lee Roth of Xi Gamma Chapter requested that the junior delegate of each member club bring membership changes to the federation meeting every month.

The proposed by-laws changes were given second readings by the secretary, Mrs. J. Lee Pelley of the B. & P.W. Club and were accepted by the unanimous vote of the delegates.

Mrs. Homer Taylor of the Salem Music Study Club was appointed social chairman of the federation by Mrs. Sharp.

Floral decorations were arranged by Mrs. Carl Flickinger of the Salem Garden Club and Mrs. George Peterson of the Garden Study Club.

Hostesses for the social hour were Mrs. Pelley and Mrs. Robert Entriokin of the B. & P.W. Club, and Mrs. Charles Oertel and Mrs. Edith Archibald of the Phoebe Frances Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Veterans Day Dinner Plans Are Completed

The Gold Star Auxiliary will join with the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Dads of Foreign Service Veterans in the observance of Veterans Day at a coverdish dinner Monday evening at 6:30 in the V.F.W. Hall. Final arrangements for the dinner were made at Monday night's meeting of the auxiliary in the V.F.W. Hall.

Mrs. Robert Talbot, president, conducted the meeting. She will represent the auxiliary at the mid-winter conference in Springfield, Nov. 16-18.

The auxiliary members made plans for the sixth district conference, which will be held here Nov. 25. They also will serve a meal to participants in the ping pong tournament sponsored by the V.F.W. that same day.

Mrs. Nicholas Hatzagan received the special prize. Lunch was served by Mrs. Albert Beeson, who treated the group in celebration of her birthday.

The next meeting will be Nov. 19. The November and December meetings will all be held one week earlier than the regular scheduled meeting dates which conflict with the holidays.

Mrs. Matie Faulk of RD 4 Salem and Mrs. Minnie Weldon of RD 1, Salem have returned from a week's vacation in New York City.

Ministerial Association Votes Aid For Church

Financial aid to the ME Zion Church for repairs to their edifice was approved when the Salem and Vicinity Ministerial Association gathered Monday in the First Presbyterian Church.

The association heard a report of the Salem bloodmobile program from Mrs. Fred Crowge, local blood bank chairman, who urged ministers to appeal to their congregations to support the blood programs.

William Weir, speaking on Alcoholics Anonymous, presented its origin and purpose before the 14 ministers present.

Rev. Clark of the Ohio Council of Churches will speak at the Monday, Dec. 3 meeting in the Presbyterian Church. Rev. William Snowball will have the devotionals.

Miss Barbara Gilmore Is Feted At Shower

Miss Barbara Ann Gilmore, bride-elect of Glenn Sauerwein, was honored at a miscellaneous shower party Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Robert Slagle of Greenford.

The 18 guests enjoyed games. Prizes went to Mrs. Robert Kelly of Salem, Mrs. Chester Pettit of Greenford and Miss Marge Conrad of Columbiana.

Miss Gilmore and Mr. Sauerwein plan to be married in late November.

Will Resubmit Gas Proposal

Council Reiterates 26% Hike 'Exorbitant'

Salem City Council Tuesday night voted unanimously to resubmit to the National Gas Company of West Virginia a resolution containing a 20 per cent gas rate increase proposal.

Council acted on a motion by Councilman Alroy Bloomberg to send a letter with the resolution reaffirming the city's desire for a fair settlement but reiterating that the proposed 26 per cent increase was "exorbitant."

Bruce Cox, the company's district manager, said he didn't know how the company would react, but he thought it probably would take the case to the Ohio Public Utilities Commission.

May Pool Finances
Bloomberg's motion followed a suggestion by councilman Fred Koenreich that if the six communities involved in the gas rate dispute decide to fight the issue before the P.U.C., they might pool their finances and send a single city solicitor to the commission.

He also felt that the company warranted a raise but that the 26 per cent proposal was too high. Koenreich said another thing to consider was that the P.U.C. might make the rate higher than 26 per cent, if the dispute was taken before that commission.

Councilman Rudy Linder had suggested that Council accept the company's second proposal of Sept. 21 while Councilman Art Hanna suggested that Council's 20 per cent offer be resubmitted in the form of an ordinance.

Besides Salem, five other area communities involved in the gas dispute are Canfield, Columbiana, Lisbon, Leetonia and Salineville. Representatives of these communities met in the Salem Council Chamber Oct. 30 in an attempt to reach a conclusion on a rate to present to the Natural Gas Co. They agreed then that the 26 per cent rate was too high.

Council President Curtis Vaughan read a letter from Robert L. Drury, legal counsel of the Ohio Education Association, replying to a letter from Council requesting the association to reconsider its negative stand on aiding in payment of adult school patrolmen here.

Drury's letter stated the state attorney general does not have the authority to give money to municipalities for the purpose of aiding in the payment of salaries of traffic policemen. It declared, however, that the school district itself may employ and pay the salaries of persons retained to guard the safety of children on streets adjacent to school buildings.

Council voted $50 to pay for the expenses of Mayor Dean B. Cranmer, Solicitor James Primm, Dr. R. T. Holzbach, city health commissioner; Eleanor Szkola, Roy Harris, Civil Service commission clerk; and Paul Fog, commission member, to attend a meeting of the State Civil Service Commission in Columbus Thursday. The meeting is to determine whether Miss Szkola will be returned to her job as a clerk in the city health department after having been discharged last summer.

A petition signed by over 300 Salem residents claiming there had been an excess of vandalism during Halloween celebrations in the city, was referred to the safety committee. The petitioners wish to confine Halloween activities to the last two days in October in an attempt to cut down such vandalism.

Council passed a number of routine transfer ordinances.

Constitutional amendments in 8,000 polling places: for Korean veterans' bonus 1,357,647; against 748,085.

The Republican trend set in with early returns Tuesday night and Republican majorities mounted steadily through the slow count. Stevenson ran ahead of Eisenhower in only three rural counties. They were Belmont and Jefferson in eastern Ohio and Pike in the South. All Democratic strongholds. Stevenson led for a time in Lucas, DiSalle's home county in northwestern Ohio, but couldn't hold the pace. Four years ago Stevenson carried six counties. They were Belmont, Jefferson, Pike and industrial Trumbull, Mahoning and Summit counties in northeastern Ohio.

Lausche demonstrated the vote-getting magic that enabled him to pile up a $25,000 advantage in 1952 while Eisenhower was winning Ohio by a half-million votes.

Lausche captured or led in 30 counties, including all eight metropolitan counties except Hamilton County in southwestern Ohio. Bender, who beat Lausche's interim appointee in 1954 for the balance of Taft's six-year term, campaigned on his record of support for the Eisenhower administration.

Eisenhower called for Bender's re-election in a Cleveland campaign address and cabinet members said the president preferred a "sure" Bender vote for senate organization to Lausche's "maybe" ballot.

Lausche, often criticized by Democrats for getting himself elected at the expense of other party candidates, went all-out in the Ohio campaign for Stevenson and his running mate, Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, and DiSalle. But the Lausche coattails failed to provide them much help.

DiSalle put on a more intensive campaign than in 1952 when he lost the U. S. Senate race to Republican Sen. John W. Bricker. County chairman, who organized apart from Democratic state headquarters in a slap at Lausche, helped DiSalle revitalize a statewide organization for his campaign. But the former Toledo mayor couldn't match in a few months the O'Neill organization built up during three terms as attorney general.

O'Neill will become Ohio's first Republican governor in eight years. The last was Thomas J. Herbert, now head of the subversive activities control board in Washington, who won election to the Jan. 2 term as Ohio Supreme Court judge.

Herbert turned back Lausche's bid for a second term in 1946. Two years later Lausche staged a comeback. His five terms as governor set a record. No other Ohioan served more than three terms in that office.

issued a stern demand for an end to British-French action against Egypt, followed up Tuesday night with a demand for economic penalties against the two Western powers and Israel. Communist Party Secretary Mikhail Suslov urged such action in an address on the eve of the 39th anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution.

The Egyptian Embassy in Moscow said a number of Soviet reserve officers had applied for service with Egyptian forces in response to an Egyptian appeal for volunteers and assistance.

Most Western observers in Moscow said, however, they believed the Soviet government had not yet decided to send more arms and equipment or "volunteers" to Egypt.

Indian Prime Minister Nehru drafted a message to Soviet Premier Bulganin appealing to the Soviet Union not to intervene with force in the Middle East.

U.N. Secretary Dag Hammarskjöld pushed preparations for establishment of the international police force and said nine nations already had promised troops for such duty. They are Canada, Colombia, Denmark, Finland, New Zealand, Norway, India, Pakistan and Sweden.

Mrs. Frances Morton also scored a landslide in her bid for a new term as recorder. She was given 25,613 votes to 12,362 for Mrs. Minetta L. Keyser of Leetonia, the Democratic contender.

Sturgis won a new term as coroner by a margin of 8,960. He polled 24,226 votes to 15,266 given Dr. William A. Kolozsi of Salem, the Democratic candidate.

Fire Levy Approved By Butler Township

A five-year 1/4-mill fire protection levy in Butler Township was passed by more than 71 per cent of the votes cast in Damascus and Winona.

The northern precinct, Damascus, voted 287 for the levy and 148 against; while the southern precinct, Winona, totals were 339 for and 99 against. A 60 per cent vote was needed to pass the levy.

The 1/4-mill levy will yield about $1,700 annually. Up until now the Butler Township volunteer fire department has been letting out contracts for fire protection.

The present contracts with the Winona-Butler Inc. department and Hanover Township Fire Association expire March 15, 1957. The township department has previously had contracts with the Damascus department.

Bonus, 4-Year Terms Approved In County

Columbiana County voters balloted favorably for the state Korean veterans bonus and the four-year terms for state senators.

The veterans bonus was sanctioned in the county 28,796 to 9,200 and the four year term proposition was favored 19,136 to 14,568.

United School Band Issue Is Approved

The $211,000 United School bond issue was passed by voters Tuesday 1,209 to 509.

Deciding the issue were residents of Hanover Township (includes Kensington), Hanover village, Butler Township north and south (includes Winona), Franklin Square in Salem Township, New Garden in Hanover north, and three sections of Center Township. Vote totals in the northeast section of Center Township were not available, but the small number of votes in that area could not change the outcome.

The issue will extend over a 23-year period at a cost of 1.9 mills or $1.90 per thousand dollars of realty valuation, and will be used to add six rooms to the United elementary school and four rooms to the new high school. Equipment for the school also will be purchased. A single unit building, United School has a 19-room elementary center opened in 1951 and a 19-room high school added in 1955 at a cost of $444,000.

The school serves a 75-square mile area in the district which is growing in population. The bond issue was submitted by United school board to keep pace with the mounting enrollment.

A West Township two-mill road levy was approved 427 to 322.

Obituary

Allan Munsell

Allan Munsell, 86, a resident of the County Home at Lisbon, died of pneumonia at 12:15 a.m. Tuesday at Salem City Hospital. He had recently suffered a broken hip.

He was born on a farm southwest of Salem, Jan. 5, 1870, the son of Ephraim and Charlotte Mounts Munsell. His wife, Josephine, died 60 years ago.

A farmer, he lived in this vicinity his entire life. His only survivor is a daughter, Mrs. Otto Sutter of Cambridge Springs, Pa.

Services will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday at the Arbaugh-Pearce Funeral Home, with Rev. Harold Deitch, pastor of the First Christian Church, officiating. Burial will be in Hope Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home this evening.

Charles Bell

Charles Bell, 74, of 122 Summit St., Lisbon, died at 10:10 p.m. Tuesday at City Hospital here where he was admitted Oct. 31 for medical treatment.

The body was taken to the Kaufman Funeral Home in Cleveland where funeral services will be held.

Washingtonville Sewage Bonds Get Voters' Approval

Washingtonville village will get its first sewage disposal system as the result of two bond issues approved by voters of that neighboring community on Tuesday.

A $35,000 bond issue to help finance the cost of the undertaking was approved 238 to 125 while a $27,000 bond issue was sanctioned 243 to 126.

The first bonds will be paid through special assessments, the second through real estate tax collections.

At present the village has no sewage system other than individual septic tanks. The Council plans to install sewer lines and erect a sewage plant in the old coal mine area east of town.

Work is expected to start as soon as plans can be complete and a contract awarded. The $35,000 bonds will be retired over a period of 20 years, the other bonds to be retired within 25 years.

In other balloting yesterday Washingtonville voters favored Eisenhower for President, O'Neill for governor and Taylor for lieutenant-governor.

Goshen Fire Levy Approved Easily

The Goshen Township fire department's half-mill operating levy was approved 491 to 167 yesterday.

Passage of the levy will release present fire contract funds for road improvements, according to the Goshen trustees who are seeking to provide fire protection to Butler township in cooperation with the Winona fire department.

C. G. Long, retired superintendent of Goshen schools, received 479 votes in the township yesterday in his bid for state senator from Mahoning County.

Precinct One voters in Goshen Township gave Long 200 votes and Precinct Two 279 ballots.

In other balloting Goshen township voters favored Kreiler for sheriff and Beil for prosecutor.

Carney, Olenick Win State Senate Contest

C. G. Long of Damascus, former superintendent of Goshen Township schools, lost out on his bid for election as state senator from Mahoning County yesterday.

Council Will Meet On Zoning Measure

A. P. Morris, chairman of the Salem Planning Commission, presented to City Council Tuesday night the commission's approved zoning ordinance for the city. The zoning ordinance is a portion of the Comprehensive City Plan.

Council will meet Nov. 15 to discuss the ordinance. Council President Curtis Vaughan said dates for public hearings on the measure will be arranged sometime in the future.

Michael Baker Jr., engineering firm of Rochester, Pa., has been at work on the Comprehensive Plan since last year. The main goal of the zoning, engineers say, is to assure that land will be used for a specific planned purpose.

Eisenhower

senhower count seemed likely to surpass the 33,927,441 he got in 1952.

Wins Seven States
Stevenson could count only six states in the Deep South—Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Mississippi, North Carolina and South Carolina—together with Missouri, for 74 electoral votes.

In the Senate contests, the story was one of contradictions. Eisenhower's huge lead over Stevenson in New York helped carry GOP State Atty. Gen. Jacob K. Javits to victory over Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York City in the battle for the Senate seat vacated by Democrat Herbert Lehman.

Kentucky went for Eisenhower and Republican John Sherman Cooper won the Senate seat vacated by the death of Democrat Alben Barkley. But Republican Thurston B. Morton was trailing Democratic Sen. Earle Clements.

Eisenhower took Ohio handily but Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche defeated GOP Sen. George Bender. Eisenhower won Idaho but Democrat Frank Church whipped Republican Sen. Herman Welker. The President carried Pennsylvania but one of his strongest rosters, GOP Sen. James Duff, was defeated.

Colorado also was in the Eisenhower column but it elected Democrat John A. Carroll to the U. S. Senate over former Gov. Dan Thornton, Republican.

A conflicting trend also developed in governor races, where the Democrats had made a net gain of one.

Eisenhower carried Iowa, one of the states where the Democrats contended there was a farm revolt. But Democrat Herschel C. Loveless ousted Republican Gov. Leo A. Hough.

Ike Wins Massachusetts
In Massachusetts, Eisenhower was the winner. uBt Democrat Foster Furcolo took the governorship away from the Republicans. Kansas elected its first Democratic governor in 20 years despite Eisenhower's sweep in that state.

Eisenhower was credited, however, with giving West Virginia its first GOP governor in many years in Cecil H. Underwood.

If Congress stays Democratic, it will be the first time since 1848 that a president has won election without carrying along at least one house.

In 1952 the Republicans won the House with 221 members, against 213 Democrats and one Independent. The Senate had 48 Republicans, 47 Democrats and one Independent, Sen. Morse of Oregon, who since has affiliated with the Democrats.

With his own margin almost certain to surpass his record 1952 showing, Eisenhower stepped to a microphone in the early morning hours to say he will continue his efforts for peace.

Breaking into a broad grin, he expressed his "most grateful thanks" to those he said had voted for "principles and ideals" and not "merely for an individual."

Then with Vice President Nixon standing nearby, he told cheering Republicans:

"With whatever talents the good

God has given me, with whatever strength there is within me, I will continue, and so will my associates, to do just one thing—to work for 168 million Americans here at home, and for peace in the world."

Eisenhower said that with his victory "modern Republicanism has now proved itself and America has approved modern Republicanism."

Look To The Future

"Modern Republicanism looks to the future," he said. "Which means it looks to that area—that time—in which our young are most interested. . . . It will point the way to peace among nations and to prosperity—advancing standards here at home in which everybody will share, regardless of any accident of power, of station, of race, religion or color."

Stevenson seemed sure of carrying only six states in the Deep South and was leading in Missouri. As returns mounted, Eisenhower was getting 58 per cent of the two-party vote, compared with 55 per cent four years ago.

A little red-eyed, Stevenson formally conceded his defeat at 1:20 a.m.

From Chicago, he sent Eisenhower a telegram which said: "You have won not only the election, but also an expression of the great confidence of the American people. I send you my warm congratulations."

"Tonight we are not Republicans and Democrats, but Americans."

"We appreciate the grave difficulties your administration faces, and, as Americans, join in wishing you success in the years that lie ahead."

In a talk to Democratic workers, some of whom were openly crying, Stevenson said: "As for me, let there be no tears, for if I have lost an election, I have won a grandchild."

Kefauver Pledges Support
In Washington his running mate, Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, issued a statement pledging Eisenhower and Nixon his support "in all that is good for America."

The trend at the halfway mark in tabulation indicated the total presidential vote might top the 61,551,918 record of 1952, despite what was generally regarded as a less heated campaign.

The Eisenhower tide rolled into the normally Democratic South with greater force than in 1952. As he did in that year, Eisenhower carried Texas, Florida, Virginia and Tennessee. He also won Louisiana and Kentucky. He won Oklahoma, as he had in 1952.

Eisenhower's victories in the South were attributed in part to the moderate stand he took on the Supreme Court's school desegregation ruling. Eisenhower said at one point it made indifference whether he endorsed the opinion or not, it was the law of the land.

Eisenhower's personal popularity was credited with having played a major part in the lopsided verdict by which the voters endorsed the Republican "peace and prosperity" campaign theme. International crises in Egypt and Hungary also appeared to have been factors in his victory.

The vote results seemed to have buried most of Stevenson's campaign issues, particularly those revolving around his description of Eisenhower as one who never had the inclination and now lacks the energy to give full time to the presidency. Others were his contention that the Eisenhower administration pampers big business, his espousal of rigid farm price supports and his suggestion that the United States move toward ending of hydrogen bomb tests.

Eisenhower's re-election made Nixon one of the top contenders for the party's 1960 presidential nomination.

cent affirmative vote for passage. It was passed by nine votes. Salem voters went to the polls in almost record numbers, with 6,648 persons casting ballots as compared with the alltime high of 7,018 who voted here in the 1952 presidential election.

Tops Record Turnout

Perry Township voters topped the record set in the 1952 election, with 1,142 balloting Tuesday as compared with 1,068 in the previous presidential contest.

Salem and Perry Township voted for four local candidates as follows:

For lieutenant governor, John Taylor of Salem (D), 3,396; Paul M. Herbert of Columbus (R), 3,818; for Common Pleas Judge, Guy J. Mauro of Salem, 3,990; and Raymond S. Buzzard of East Liverpool, 2,713; Dr. William A. Kolozsi of Salem (D), 3,875; Ernest R. Sturgis of East Liverpool (R), 3,309; and County Engineer Charles D. Snyder of Salem (R), unopposed, 5,745.

In other national, state and county contests, Salem voters balloted as follows:

President, Eisenhower, 5,406; Stevenson, 2,321.

Governor, O'Neill, 4,783; Michael V. DiSalle, 2,637.

U. S. Senator, Bender, 3,860; Lausche, 3,563.

He's standing on the shoulders of his son, Rudy, who has a huge birthday cake strapped on his neck. Rudy is balancing on tightrope 70 feet in air. Adolphe's been at it since he was 4.

A REAL SKY PILOT—Col. Dean Hess, who started his career as a minister and then became a combat flyer in Korea, arrives in New York for publication of his new book, "Battle Hymn." He'll turn profits from book and future movie over to Korean orphanage he founded.

IT'S STRAW VOTE HERE—Mike Pulsiano and Gina Ciuzio give their unanimous approval to their own share-the-wealth plan in New York's Central park. Gina would do better if she'd make sure lower end of her straw was deep in the drink.

PRINCESS ON TOUR

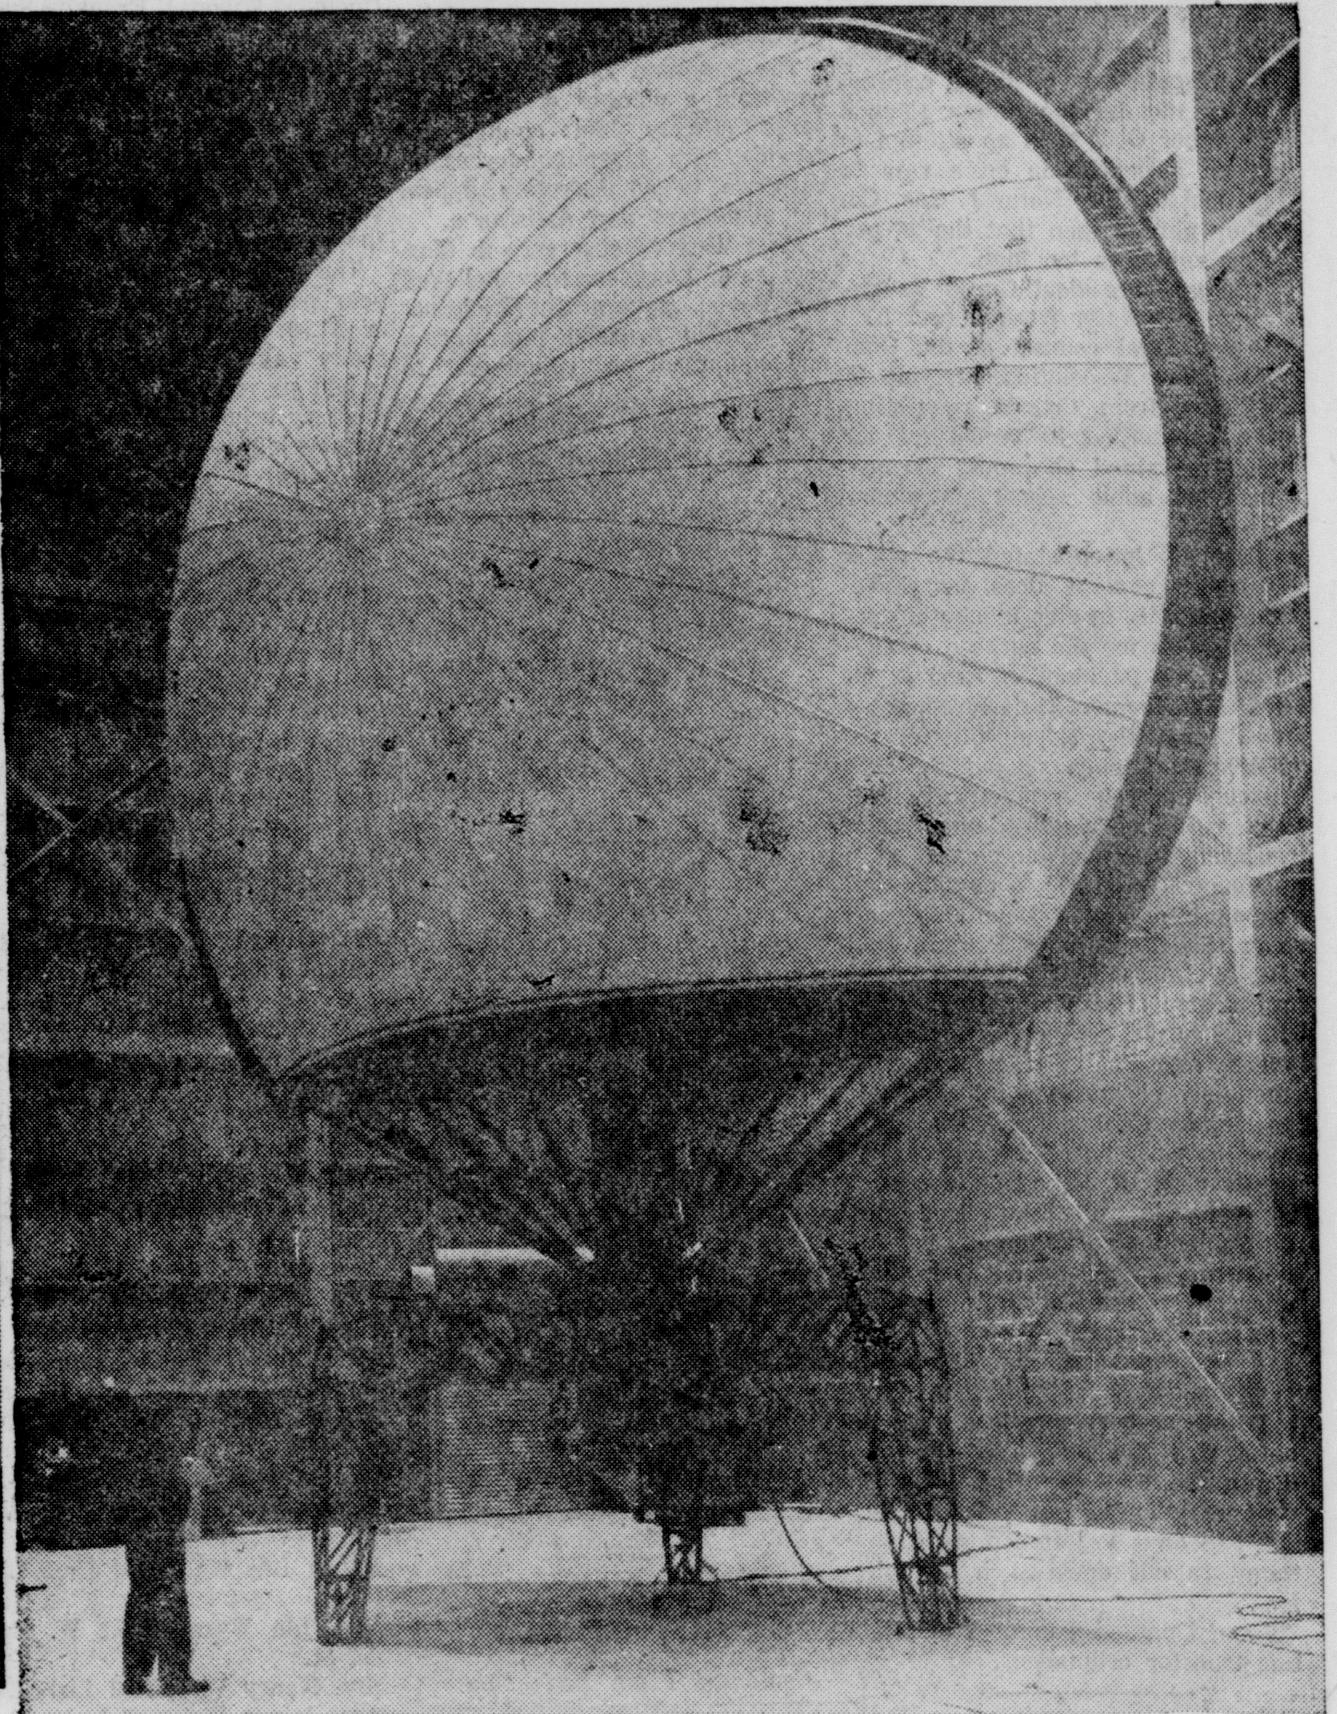

MEETING tribal chieftains, riding in locomotive cars and going to gala evening events are just a part of the crammed schedule for Britain's Princess Margaret on her current tour of British colonies. In Tanganyika, she met Chief Thomas Maresalles II of the Chagga tribe and heard a farewell performance of children of the European school at Arusha, near Mt. Kilimanjaro. Chance to sit at throttle of a locomotive came during visit to railway workshops in Kenya.

RE-DISCOVERS NATIVE LAND—Helen Portello, a California-born screen actress, returns to her native land aboard Italian ship, Cristoforo Colombo, after a four-year absence. She appeared in four films abroad.

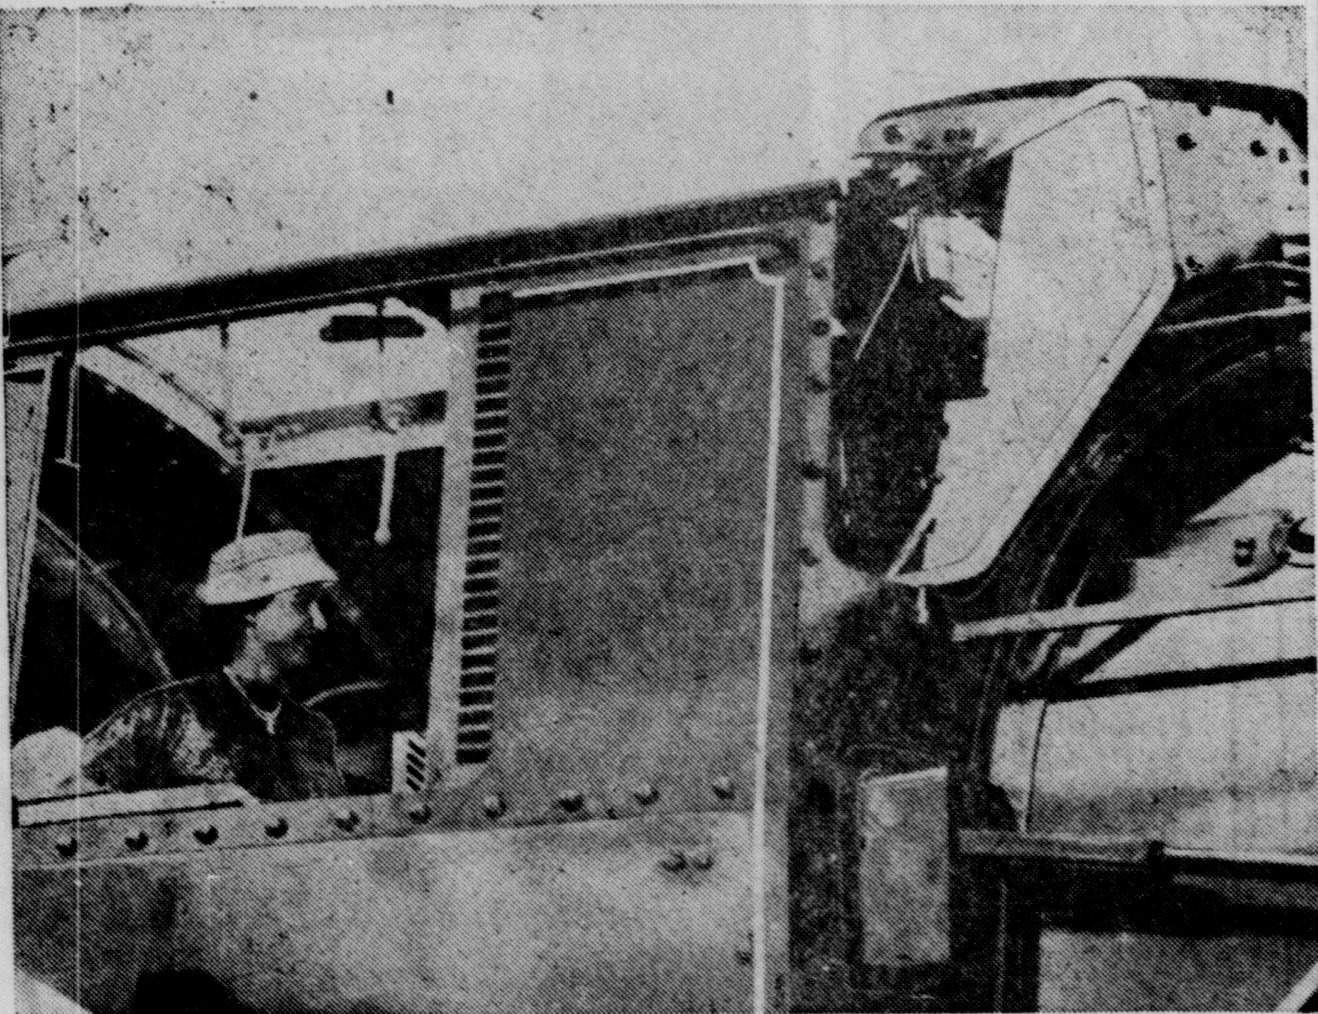

LOLLIPOP-SHAPED BALLOON?—Looks like it, but this is a new type of radar antenna developed in Baltimore, Md., for the U. S. Air Force. Considered a major break-through in design of ground electronics equipment, this air-inflated antenna is highly mobile. It can be used in tactical situations and can be quickly inflated.

ENTER DANCING—Famous ballerinas Marjorie (wearing hat) and Maria Tallchief go through a little workout on a chest for life jackets aboard the liner Liberte in New York harbor. Their shipboard audience viewing the routine is Marjorie's twins, Alex and George.

FLOATING UNITED NATIONS—Arriving in America on the same ship were these three international celebrities—Nasrollah Entezam, ambassador of Iran to the United Nations, French actress Michele Morgan and Maharajah of Baroda, India.

One of the highlights of her tour of the colonies was this visit to a locomotive.

Meeting Is Set On Newspapers' Strike

CLEVELAND (AP)—Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze says he will meet today (11 a.m.) with committees representing the Cleveland newspaper guild and the management of Cleveland's three big daily newspapers.

Celebrezze said he hoped to encourage settlement of a situation that has left the three newspapers idle for a week.

The guild struck the afternoon Cleveland Press at midnight on Wednesday of last week after negotiations failed to produce a new contract. The guild's contract with all three newspapers expired at that time.

Production at the Cleveland News, an afternoon paper published by the Forest City Publishing Co., stopped the next day when delivery truck drivers refused to load copies with combination nameplates, including that of the struck Cleveland Press. A similar situation developed the same night when the Cleveland Plain Dealer, a morning paper also published by Forest City, included the nameplates of all three newspapers on its front page.

A major issue in negotiations preceding the strike deadline were the guild's demands for wage increases of $9 to $12.50 a week in a two-year contract. Shortly before expiration of the contracts the Press management offered $5.50 to $10.50. Under the old contracts, the minimum weekly rate for newsmen having five years experience was $122.50.

Two pounds of potatoes, cooked and mashed, usually need 1-3 to 1 1/2 cup hot milk and 3 to 4 table-spoons butter or margarine.

Ike's Indiana Margin Proves To Be Landslide

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—President Eisenhower's victory margin in Indiana turned into a landslide early Wednesday, carrying along with it the entire Republican state ticket.

The scope of the GOP triumph was unexpected though Eisenhower was favored to win. The Republicans picked up the state's 13 electoral votes in the presidential sweepstakes, re-elected Sen. Homer E. Capehart and retained control of the statehouse.

The GOP held its nine congress seats and surged way ahead in the 8th district, (Evansville), now in the hands of the Democrats. However, late returns from normally Republican areas in the district unexpectedly favored the Democratic incumbent, Rep. Winfield K. Denton, and it was possible that the final tally might put him ahead of D. Bailey Merrill, Republican.

E. Liverpool Voters Reject 3-Mill Levy

EAST LIVERPOOL — Refusing help in the city's financial dilemma, East Liverpool voters Tuesday overwhelmingly rejected a 3-mill operating levy that would have provided $105,000 annually.

Given a majority in only two of the city's 30 precincts — although it required a 60 per cent affirmative vote for passage — the levy was rejected 3,586 to 5,064.

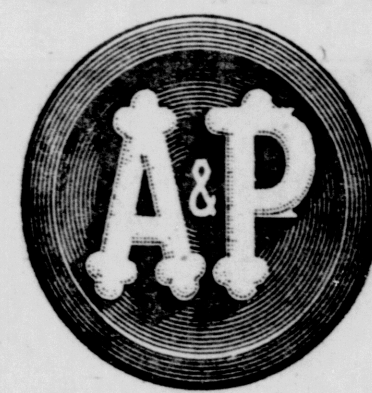

It was the second time in a year the voters turned down a plea from Council and the administration for more funds to help overcome the rising cost of materials and payrolls in the face of postwar inflation. In November, 1955, a 3-mill levy was turned down, 1,756 to 3,678.

5 Teams Withdraw From Olympics; Swiss May Drop Out

World Tension Brings Action

Countries Demand Russia Be Barred

By JOHN FARROW
LONDON (AP) — Five teams have withdrawn from the Olympic Games and one other is debating pulling out as time for the world's biggest sports spectacle approaches in Australia under the black cloud of increasing international tension.

Latest country to quit the Olympic Games are Communist China, Holland and Spain.

Peiping Radio said today China refused to send a team "because the International Olympic Committee persists in recognizing the Olympic committees of two Chinas and allows Taiwan (Formosa) to send a team to the Olympics."

Egypt withdrew its team Aug. 12. Iraq pulled out Nov. 3 because of the grave Middle Eastern situation.

Switzerland is under pressure to resign from groups protesting against the Russian suppression of the Hungarian freedom movement.

Several prominent members of the Swiss Olympic committee have expressed the view that Swiss athletes should not compete against Russians.

Holland followed the advice of the Dutch Sports Federation which urged the Netherlands Olympic Committee to withdraw unless the Soviet Union is banned from the games which are due to open in Melbourne Nov. 22.

From other countries came news of uncertainty about Olympic Games participation.

The Russian intervention in Hungary nearly stopped Denmark from competing. Finally, after considering protests against Danes competing with the Russians, the Danish Olympic Committee decided to send 32 athletes and leave the decision whether to compete to five Olympic officials.

Norway also agreed to send a team but committee members will decide whether to compete "after assessing the international situation."

From Stockholm came news of more protests against the Russian intervention in Hungary. The Swedish Olympic Committee called an emergency meeting but finally decided to go ahead.

Constantine Andrianov, president of the Soviet Olympic Committee, was asked by a newsmen in Melbourne: "Will you tell us about reports that Russia will withdraw from the games?" Andrianov replied: "We are here. We came to compete in the games. Does that answer your question?"

The Hungarians left Prague today for Melbourne, that news followed conflicting reports that the Hungarians would not compete in the Olympics.

Britain and France have decided to continue with their Olympic plans despite the Middle East flare up.

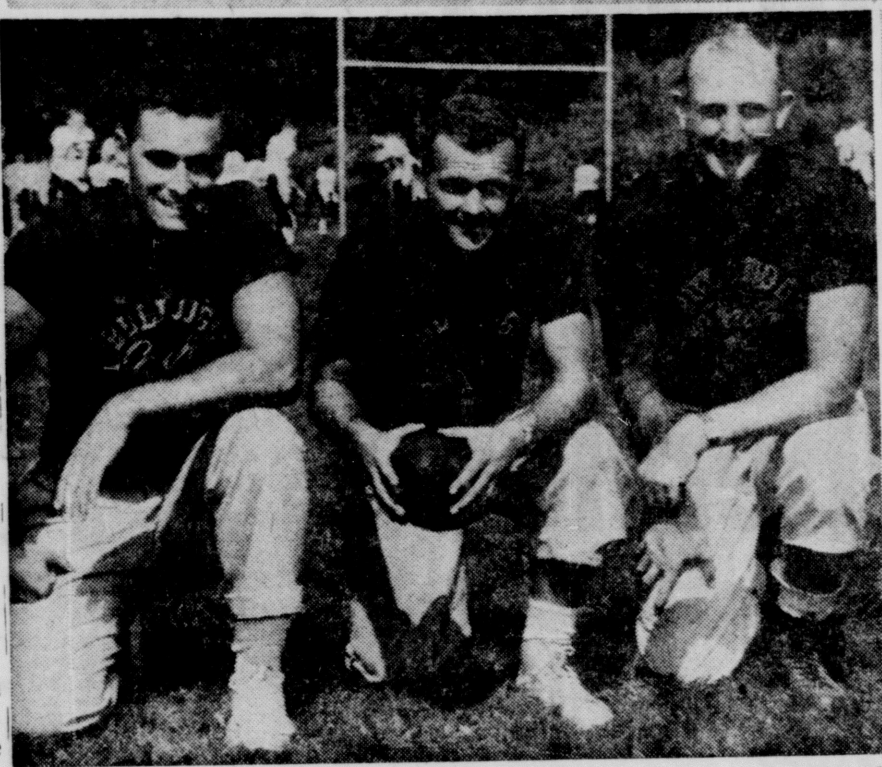

Bobo Drops Out Of OSU Grid Picture

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Hubert Bobo, Ohio State's colorful 1954 Rose Bowl fullback, is out of the Buck's 1956 football picture.

Bobo said Tuesday he would drop off the squad for the remainder of the season. He said he plans to have an operation on his ailing knee.

"I'm planning to come back next year," said Bobo, who returned to football this fall after a year's absence because of a scholastic disqualification. "But I want two good legs to do it on."

Meanwhile, Ohio State backfield coach Gene Fekete said the Bucks showed "plenty of hustle" Tuesday working against both defensive and offensive Indiana plays in preparation for their clash with the Hoosiers here Saturday.

E. Palestine Squad One Of Finest In School's History

By MARK MILLER

Fans have been witnessing this season one of the finest football teams that East Palestine's High School has ever produced.

The reason behind whatever success they have had, according to Head Football Coach John Hogan, is because "the team's desire to win is greater than their opponents'."

East Palestine will go after their ninth straight victory when they trek to Columbiana Friday night to meet the Columbiana Clippers in the final game of the season for the two schools.

If the Bulldogs win Friday night, they will be the first East Palestine undefeated and untied football team, according to records kept as far back as 1926, and perhaps the first in the history of the school.

WHAT APPEARS to be the school's scoring record of 287 points for one season, set by the 1952 squad, in eight wins and one tie, also is jeopardized, as this year's team has scored 268 points thus far.

On defense the Bulldogs have limited their opponents to an average of less than 100 yards gained, only three points scored, and but four first downs marked up per contest.

The ability of the Palestine line to fire into the opposing offensive lines as a unit is another important factor in the squad's success.

East Palestine victories include: Leontia 7-6, Sebring 46-6, Newton Falls 25-0, Lisbon 34-0, Salem 41-0, Minerva 32-0, Poland 41-0 and Louisville 42-6.

BESIDES HAVING a sound all-around football squad, East Palestine has one of the finest quarterbacks in northeastern Ohio in Tom Young, according to Hogan.

Then there is a senior fullback named Jim Lindner, who has done just about everything on a gridiron that can be expected of an individual.

Lindner has scored 25 touchdowns and 13 extra points, for a total of 163 points, better than half of his team's total points so far this season.

An outstanding scholar and high school leader among students, Lindner has been active as a class officer three out of four years and is now serving on the student council.

Lindner, who has earned close to a B average during his four-year high school career, has no definite college plans.

Gen. Mariles Captures Another Riding Medal

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Horse Show ended Tuesday night but not before Brig. Gen. Humberto Mariles of Mexico had added another blue ribbon performance to the masterful rides that had won him three individual championships.

In a dramatic finish, Gen. Mariles, the last of 15 competitors, engineered a perfect ride aboard his mount, Chihuahua II, to clinch the perpetual challenge trophy for the Mexican three-man team.

Ireland placed second, Canada and the United States tied for third.

Ed Bailey Picked Sophomore Of Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Ed Bailey, who contributed 28 home runs to Cincinnati's major league record-equalling output of 221 today was voted the National League Sophomore-of-the-Year for 1956.

The 25-year-old catcher drew 71 votes and barely beat out Ken Boyer for the award. The St. Louis third baseman was named on 68 of the 206 ballots cast by members of the Baseball Writers Assn. of America participating in the annual Associated Press poll.

Pittsburgh outfielder Bill Virdon the NL rookie-of-the-year while playing with the Cardinals in 1955, wound up third in the voting with 57 votes. Relief pitcher Don Bessent of Brooklyn received five votes and Roberto Clemente, another Pirate outfielder, four.

Bailey was just a second-string catcher behind veteran Smokey Burgess at the season's outset, but gained a regular berth as a result of his prolific batting. Besides his surprising home run production, the husky Tennessean also wound up with an even .300 batting average and 75 RBIs.

In the photo (r.) is a sparkplug of the team, fullback Jim Lindner, who has scored 25 touchdowns this year.

Tom Fears Retiring

LOS ANGELES (AP) — After nine years as an end for the Los Angeles Rams, Tom Fears is retiring.

He suffered a knee injury early in the exhibition season against the San Francisco 49ers, and was placed on the inactive list for several weeks, but returned to action against the Green Bay Packers. Fears, a star at UCLA before being drafted by the Rams, will assist coach Sid Gillman for the remainder of the season.

WIN PISTOL SHOOT

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Four air policemen from nearby Lockbourne Air Force Base won the 8th Air Force pistol competition Tuesday at Westover AFB, Mass. with 924 points out of a possible 1,200 points. They qualified for Strategic Air Command pistol championships at Omaha, Neb., Nov. 12.

John Brodie Has Passing Title Cinched

NEW YORK (AP) — John Brodie of Stanford appears to have the major-league passing championship all wrapped up but he's involved in a battle with Paul Hornung of Notre Dame for total offense honors.

NCAA services bureau statistics released today show that Brodie has passed for 1,145 yards to 715 for Ralph Hunsaker of Arizona. It is virtually impossible for Hunsaker to overtake Brodie.

But in the total offense race, it is another story. Brodie has a total offense of 1,145 to Hornung's 995. Hornung has four games left to play and Brodie has three.

Hornung, incidentally, is the only major college player in the country who has gained more than half his team's total yardage.

Jim Crawford of Wyoming is the man to catch for the ball-carrying title. He has rushed for 914 yards, putting him 156 yards ahead of Bill Barnes of Wake Forest, who edged into second place last week.

DODGERS BEAT JAPS

NAGOYA, Japan. (AP) — A wild pitch gave the Brooklyn Dodgers their winning run today in a 3-2 baseball victory over the Japan All-Stars.

The Dodgers, trailing 2-0, tied the count in the fourth inning on a bases-loaded double by Gil Hodges. Then, Jim Gentile raced home from third base with the winning run when relief hurler Kazuhisa Inao sailed his first pitch over the catcher's head.

Montevideo, Uruguay — Hans Stretz, Germany, outpointed Dogomar Martinez, Uruguay, 10 (light-heavyweights).

Vic Wertz Picked For League Comeback-of-the-Year In '56

By BEN OLAN

NEW YORK (AP) — Vic Wertz, whose recovery from a sometimes crippling disease gave renewed hope to similarly afflicted thousands, made the American League Comeback-of-the-Year in 1956.

Wertz, who fell victim to polio in Aug. 1955, received the votes of 105 of the 178 members of the Baseball Writers Assn. of America participating in the annual Associated Press poll.

The Cleveland first baseman regained his position as one of the game's outstanding sluggers the past season by walloping 32 home runs and driving in 106 runs. He was second in the league in homers and third in RBIs. He batted .264.

Charley Maxwell, Detroit outfielder, was runnerup in the balloting with 17 votes. He was followed by Dick Gernert of Boston with 12, Chuck Stobbs of Washington with 10, and Mel Parnell of the Red Sox with five.

Vic's polio attack shocked the baseball world. He is a strapping fellow, 6 feet tall and weighs 195 pounds.

After only two weeks in a hospital, however, Wertz returned to his home in Detroit. His recovery was quick and in March he reported to Cleveland's spring training quarters in reasonably good shape.

Vic, a 10-year man in the majors has a lifetime batting average of .278 with 190 home runs and 823 runs batted in.

Ambehaving Wins Rich Remsen Stakes

By JOHN CHANDLER
NEW YORK (AP)—Bold Ruler remained the biggest riddle of horse racing today, while Ambehaving became a colt to be reckoned with in the Kentucky Derby and other big 3-year-old classics next year.

Ambehaving, owned by the Bohemia Stable of Mrs. Richard C. Dupont, Wilmington, Del., took charge in the stretch at Jamaica Tuesday and scampered to a 2 1/2 length victory in the $96,150 Remsen Stakes.

Bold Ruler ran last in a field of 11 in the mile and one sixteenth race for 2-year-olds. It was the second consecutive bad race for Bold Ruler, trained by Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons and ridden by Eddie Arcaro.

In the $319,210 Garden State stakes, Bold Ruler finished 17th after stumbling and almost going down on the final turn. Calumet's Barbizon won that one, while Ambehaving finished fourth.

In the Remsen, Bold Ruler got a poor start, found himself in a jam of horses on the first turn, and when he finally found room on the backstretch, refused to extend himself.

Ambehaving, ridden by Logan Batcheller, caught John A. Morris' Missile in the stretch, while Mrs. Arvilla P. O'Toole's Finlandia, a 70-1 shot, came in third.

Football Briefs

CHICAGO (AP)—Midwest Football Briefs:

Iowa — Pass defense and signal drills took up Iowa's two-hour workout. Four key players including halfbacks Bill Hapfel, Don Dobro and Del Kloewer were on the injured list and are doubtful starters against Minnesota.

Minnesota — Dave Lindblom was moved to left halfback behind Pinky McNamara. Sidelined with injuries are halfbacks Ken Bombardier, Bob Solits and Norm Anderson.

Ohio State — Hubert Bobo, star fullback of the 1954 team, will drop off the squad for the remainder of the season because of a bad knee.

Wisconsin — Fullback Pat Levenhagen was back in uniform but kept away from contact work. Levenhagen has had an injured ankle.

Indiana — Quarterback Chick Cichowski will be ready to start against Ohio State. Cichowski has been out because of a cracked rib.

Purdue — Quarterback Len Dawson is nursing an injured passing arm and it is doubtful if he will see action against Michigan State.

Michigan — Rain cut short a Wolverine drill against Illinois plays. Halfback Terry Barr is fit and ready for full time duty following an ankle injury.

Michigan State — The Spartans are afraid of Purdue's towering pass catchers, Lamar Lundy and Dick Munley. Both are 6 feet 6.

Illinois — Quarterbacks Bill Offenbecher and Tom Haller led an Illini drill which featured a sharp passing attack. Offenbecher and fullback Ray Nitschke are recovering from minor injuries.

Northwestern — A leg injury will sideline quarterback Dale Pienta for the Wisconsin game. Pienta will be replaced by Jack Ellis.

Notre Dame — Quarterback Paul Hornung and center Ed Sullivan were on the Irish injured list. Hornung reinjured a dislocated thumb but is expected to play against Pitt Saturday. Sullivan has a sprained back and is a doubtful starter.

Marquette — Fullback Jim Surance and center Dick Campbell will be ready to play against Kansas State. Surance has had ankle trouble and Campbell has been suffering from a pulled muscle.

NO MORE WORRIES — Kansas basketball coach Dick Harp felt a bit better about things when Wilt The Stilt Chamberlain, his seven-foot sophomore, returned to practice. Chamberlain had been confined for minor throat surgery.

pick this weekend's college football winners. Last week's voting brought 38 winners from 46 decisions. That's an average of .826 and hiked the season's figures to 244 right, 71 wrong for .774.

This weeks picks: Georgia Tech over Tennessee: the season's Dixie masterpiece and it could be as close as last year's 7-7 tie. Georgia Tech's slick senior back field foursome and the home field give the Engineers a slight edge over Johnny Majors and the Volunteers.

Minnesota over Iowa: This is your TV morsel for Saturday afternoon. Both are in the running for the Big Ten Rose Bowl trip. Bobby Cox to keep the Gophers on the Pasadena path.

Oklahoma over Iowa State: The Sooners had their 1956 scare at Colorado last weekend.

Michigan State over Purdue: Len Dawson, Purdue's famed flinger, not up to par.

Stanford over Oregon State: John Brodie is the decisive factor. The winner of this one becomes No. 1 in Rose Bowl parade.

Clemson over Maryland: What a perfect spot for an upset.

Texas A&M over Southern Methodist: Jack Pardee and his hard hitting mates take another step toward the Southwest Conference flag.

Duke over Navy: It has been a dismal season for the Blue Devils but every cloud has its silver lining.

Syracuse over Holy Cross: Jim Brown and Jim Riddle make up on one of the country's better half-back combinations.

Ohio State over Indiana: Too many Buckeyes.

Colorado over Missouri: A Colorado victory would insure the team a visit to Miami's Orange Bowl New Year's Day. John (The Beast) Bayuk will see to it that the Buffaloes win.

Michigan over Illinois: The Illini have returned to normal.

Pittsburgh over Notre Dame: This is not Notre Dame's year.

Southern California over California: Even though Jon Arnett is gone the Trojans keep rolling along.

Skipping over the others: Friday night

George Washington over Richmond, Hawaii over Southern Oregon.

Saturday:

EAST: Army over William Mary, Brown over Cornell, Colgate over Bucknell, Dartmouth over Columbia, Delaware over Rutgers, Penn State over Boston University, Princeton over Harvard, Villanova over the Citadel, Yale over Pennsylvania.

MIDWEST: Detroit over Drake, Kansas over Nebraska, Marquette over Kansas State, Cincinnati over Wichita, Wisconsin over Northwestern.

SOUTH: Auburn over Mississippi State, Florida State over Furman, Florida over Georgia, Kentucky over Vanderbilt, Oklahoma A&M over LSU, South Carolina over North Carolina State, Tulane over Alabama, Virginia Tech over Wake Forest, North Carolina over Virginia, West Virginia over Virginia Military, Davidson over Wofford.

SOUTHWEST: Rice over Arkansas, Houston over Tulsa, Texas Christian over Texas Tech.

FAR WEST: Utah over Colorado A & M, Denver over Brigham Young, Idaho over Utah State, Wyoming over Montana, UCLA over Washington, Oregon over Washington State.

Boosters Will Fete Gridders, Parents

The Salem Boosters Club will meet Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at the Memorial Building. All Salem High School football players, their mothers and fathers are invited to attend a "Dutch" luncheon.

John Sebo, club president, will preside and give a talk. Football Coach Earle Bruce also will talk and show movies of the East Liverpool game played last week.

Fruit cakes, made far ahead of the holidays, may be brushed with apple cider from time to time.

Out My Way, Suh!

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By R. I. LIDE

"Bucky, the beaver," strolled out on the highway near Highlandtown Saturday and was struck by a passing car. It was picked up by the caretaker at the Ismond farm and turned over to Deputy James Miller. Jim took the animal to a veterinarian and it was found to have a bruised leg but recovery seemed certain.

It probably weighs 40 pounds, full grown and gentle as a kitten. Anyone could pet it and it even sat up on its haunches unmindful of people but a little bit bewildered in strange surroundings.

Beavers cannot live very long out of water. They must be kept moist so it is resting in a watering trough on the Ismond farm until the game management section takes it to a new home in Portage County.

FREDERICK ZURBRUGG, of Swiss descent, a farmer in Knox Township, took a trip back to the old country three years ago. He brought a variety of Swiss bells on returning home with him, all having a different tone. I counted 9 cows in his pasture with a bell around the neck. I never heard where's all the ducks? As far as I can learn they are about 8 miles out on Lake Erie, thousands of them, waiting until rough weather sets in before they begin their southward migration. A few ruddy's are on Lake Guilford and the Salem Reservoir along with the chicken-billed coot.

Walter DeRhodes and Bill Converse of RD 2, Leetonia, each bagged a Canada goose in a corn field near Beaver Lake last week.

Walter's weighed 9 1/2 pounds, with a wing spread of 64 inches while Bill's was a pound lighter. The birds are now in the deep freeze to be enjoyed by their respective families at Thanksgiving dinner. You don't get a shot at geese very often in this section. But if you know where they feed and when they are feeding, I understand they are very punctual in their habits and always visit the same spot at the exact moment when they get hungry.

So, if the hunter can locate the field they are using then do not try to sneak up on them as this is almost impossible, let them alone and get there the next day before their scheduled arrival, get set in a blind of some sort and let them come to you. And, by all means hold your fire until they are in range or you will never bag a goose.

FIVE DEER have been killed on the highways of Columbiana County since the beginning of mating season. The kill will be steady from here on in until about the middle of January when it will begin to taper off.

If you happen to be driving along and see a deer standing along the banks of a highway the first thing to do is apply your brakes. If the deer has his mind made up to cross the road he will invariably jump in front of your car and a collision is imminent.

These foggy mornings increase the hazard of colliding with a deer as you fight your way along trying to get to work on time. A

3 Soviet-Controlled Radio Stations In Hungary Silenced

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Three Russian-controlled radio stations in Hungary went off the air abruptly today as reports of continuing fighting between Hungarian rebels and Soviet forces still seeped out of the embattled country.

There was no explanation for the sudden discontinuance of broadcasting, but it could mean that insurgent fighters had attacked the stations or their power plants.

Falling silent were Radio Budapest and stations at Pecs in Southern Hungary and Szombathely near the Austrian frontier in the west.

An Italian newspaper claimed it had succeeded in establishing brief contact with a rebel radio transmitter in the battered Hungarian capital and was informed the fighting still raged.

A diplomatic source in Vienna said he had received information that the rebellion was continuing in several sections of Budapest and other parts of Hungary.

Milan's Catholic Italia said it had received a rebel radio message saying Budapest was still a scene of battle with many Soviet tanks and artillery weapons shelling parts of the town.

Russian tanks and troops launched their attack Sunday to wipe out the Hungarian bid for independence. All telephone and telegraph communications between Vienna and Budapest still were cut. A similar communications blackout covered neighboring Romania.

Radio Budapest, voice of the new Soviet-installed Hungarian government, broadcast a pledge of "eternal friendship" with the Soviet Union. The pledge came on the 39th anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution.

Radio Budapest also turned down Western offers of relief supplies, saying "our pride forbids us to accept the imperialist aid." It said assistance was pouring in from Russia and that Romania had promised to send building materials, foods and medicines.

Radio Free Europe quoted a broadcast from Rakoczy radio, a rebel transmitter in southwest Hungary, as saying:

"The Russians demand that we lay down our arms. We won't do it and if it is necessary, we will fight to our last drop of blood."

Other information reaching Vienna said Soviet troops had fired on the Yugoslav legation in Budapest, killing a young diplomat and wounding several members of the legation staff.

Protests against the Soviet action in Hungary erupted at Luxembourg, where a group of 2,000 demonstrators stormed into the Soviet legation, tossed furniture out windows and burned it in the courtyard.

The U.N. General Assembly was to get a report on the Hungarian situation today from Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld.

Pakistan instructed its U.N. delegation to sponsor a resolution urging the Assembly to raise a U.N. police force for the maintenance of law and order in Hungary.

Sen. Kuchel Is Re-Elected In California

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The tidal wave of votes which reelected President Eisenhower swept over California and also carried Republican U.S. Sen. Thomas Kuchel back into office.

Adlai Stevenson was running a closer race than he did four years ago, but California's block of 32 electoral votes — second only to New York's 45 — was solidly in the Republican column.

Returns from 14,015 of California's 24,984 precincts gave Eisenhower 1,018,795 and Stevenson 852,479.

Kuchel, Vice President Nixon's successor in the senate, steadily widened his margin over Democrat State Sen. Richard Richards. Kuchel edged Richards even in the latter's home county, populous Los Angeles.

The congressional races were largely in doubt. However, there was a possibility of the Democrats gaining three seats.

WILL BE ARRAIGNED

ilton Boat Club. Police aid Lingler told them he granted a "Howard Johnson" permission to store a boat in a shed at the Lingler Coal Co. where the missing craft and trailer were found.

Ike Wins Texas' 24 Electoral Votes

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Texans followed a pattern set in 1952 and gave the state's 24 electoral votes Tuesday to Dwight D. Eisenhower by an overwhelming majority.

It was only the third time since Civil War times that Texas voted Republican in a presidential contest.

A count from 244 of the state's 254 counties gave Eisenhower 840,686 votes to 662,227 for Adlai Stevenson — a majority of 55.65 per cent.

Texas' sole Republican congressman, Rep. Bruce Alger of Dallas, won re-election. Otherwise, Democrats took all two-party contests in the state, including the election of U.S. Sen. Price Daniel as governor.

A White Christmas

How To Be The Best Cook

Want to be known as the best cook on the block and still spend less time in the kitchen than you used to?

If the answer is "yes," let it be hinted to the man of the house that a new gas range would make a mighty appreciated White Christmas gift.

For it's the gas range that has special features more useful than a couple of extra hands, a mathematical genius and a whole new set of cooking appliances.

There's the foolproof automatic roast control. You don't have to figure out how long to cook the meat or poultry according to weight or degree of "doneness" you want. Just stick a probe into the back of the instrument for "rare" or "well done" or somewhere in between. That's all. Meat done, oven turns off.

Perhaps even helpful in building your reputation as a superior cook is the thermostatic top-burner heat control. It turns every pan you've got into an automatically controlled cooking vessel. Once you turn to the proper dial setting (from 150 to 400 degrees) your top burner will never vary more than two degrees, no matter how long you keep the gas turned on. Now you can make those tricky sauces just right every time.

Broilers are in the front seat this year, too. You can have a broiler with 10 different settings, operated at the touch of a finger. You may select a three-way model that becomes a twin rotisserie or an adjustable high broiler or a deep pan barbecue broiler.

And don't forget the built-in griddles.

If you have a special decorating plan, too, you needn't worry about a color clash. Gas range manufacturers got together with other appliance makers to coordinate colors. Now, without a qualm, you can match cabinets and sink with the new range.

A food that's "scaloped" means that it is arranged in a casserole between layers of cream sauce; usually a topping of buttered crumbs or the crumbs and grated cheese goes over the top.

Broil Or Bake In Wall

TWO-IN-ONE—Here's the amazing new electric wall oven that lets you broil and bake at different temperatures at the same time.

A two-in-one wall oven that broils and bakes at the same time is one of the new space-saving electrical appliances that Santa might be able to get into his pack without too much trouble.

Kitchen planning experts point out that an oven like this will help solve space problems in small kitchens or in any kitchen with limited usable wall space. This is because it gives the homemaker the equivalent of two ovens without taking up the space of two ovens.

The built-in wall unit features a removable divider which, when in place, permits the homemaker to broil a steak in the upper section while baking a cake below at a different temperature. With the divider removed, the full-sized 17-inch oven can handle a turkey big enough for all the relatives at Christmas dinner.

The homemaker can enter t a n

Automatic Dryer Is Boon All Year Long

Even if it's a White Christmas outside, there's always "sunshine" in your gas dryer.

Besides being faster and costing less, your automatic gas dryer gives clothes a better-than-outdoors freshness and odor.

Besides, as the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association points out, that old-fashioned outdoors freshness wasn't always as pleasant as it sounds. There was dust and smoke and, perhaps, rain.

And getting an average-size wash out to the clothesline letting it dry and hauling it back in ponderous clothes baskets took at least six times as long as it does in a gas dryer. Fifteen minutes for damp dry, 30 for fluff dry — and the wash is done.

There's another item to consider too. Dryer-dried clothing is easier to iron, since the wrinkles are tumbled out more effectively.

Some gas dryers have special controls so that proper adjustment can be made for specific drying jobs — whether with delicate fabrics or with heavy items such as blankets or shag rugs.

Manufacturers of dryers are moving into the built-in field along with the other appliance makers. They have models designed for under-counter or cabinet installation — and they come in colors to match your decorating arrangements.

Old Gas Range Gives Dad A Break

What happens to the old gas range when the home improver provides a shiny new one for the kitchen? The Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association recommends a cellar spot for the old one.

It will be ready for coffee breaks for the improver himself when he's at workbench tasks, or for his wife when she's at the laundry or other cellar chores.

The extra cooking capacity fits in when the guest list taxes even the spacious modern gas range.

Show Them Off!

Many a gleaming gift pan or skillet lies hidden in the home. The Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association reminds that it's a simple matter to install fasteners which will give these shining beauties their rightful place on the wall. And, with the automatic top burner heat control of a modern gas range, every utensil, regardless of its size or shape, becomes automatic as well as ornamental.

All-Electric Kitchen Brings Living Ease

If you plan to make it a White Christmas with an all-electric kitchen, you're switching on the current to better living for your whole family.

There's automation beyond belief. There's beauty, too — and thrift.

Do you know just what you're getting in an electric kitchen? Designers and engineers have improved today's electric kitchen appliances so greatly that they are far ahead of what went into kitchens just a few years ago.

Take electric ranges. They offer clean, fast, dependable automatic cooking. New built-in models lend themselves to aesthetic kitchen design — a much wanted feature in today's homes. The oven can be installed in one location, and the surface units in another, wherever most efficient and desirable.

Many New Features

Electric ranges now come with many other hitherto unheard-of features — such as ovens in which baking and broiling can be done at the same time, ovens equipped with rotisseries in addition to their automatic, controlled-heat features, surface units that fold back into the wall when not in use, ovens that can be raised or lowered mechanically to suit the height of the users.

There are remarkable innovations too in electric refrigerators: models which are installed on the wall and sectional models where the refrigerator and freezer section, in separate units, may be installed waist-high at counter level, mounted atop each other or beneath a work surface.

In addition, electric refrigerators now offer sliding and turning shelves for easy access to foods, built-in water and fruit-juice dispensers and other handy items.

For all the household utilities requiring hot water — and the figure is practically astronomical — there's the electric water heater. It supplies all the hot water you need, with safety, dependability and economy. It's easy to install and may be placed wherever is most convenient.

Coming in various shapes, sizes and colors, the water heater is an attractive — and necessary — addition to your kitchen or laundry center.

Speaking of laundry, the trend is toward making the laundry a part of the kitchen. Some kitchens combine a range, dishwasher, a food waste disposer and a combination washer-dryer, all under one seamless stainless-steel counter top. In others, the washer-dryer and hot water heater are placed side by side to give extra counter space.

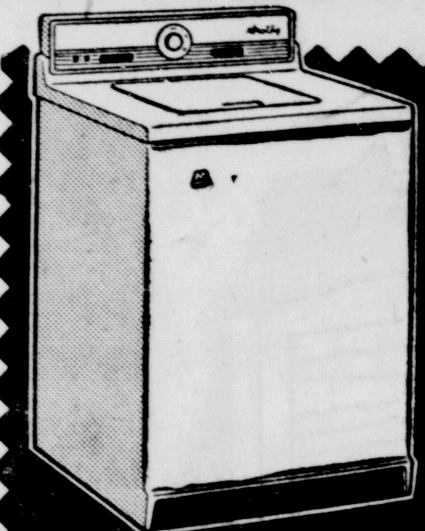

They Are Time Savers

Washers and dryers come separately or as a unit — attractive, easily operated time savers for the busy housewife.

When you think over just what your new electric kitchen will mean to you and your family in happier, healthier, better living, you'll be glad you made your White Christmas electric.

Appliances Make Holiday Happy For Whole Family

Let's make it an old-fashioned Christmas this year, one with the whole family sharing in the joy of the holiday season.

"Old fashioned" doesn't mean "out of style." In fact, there has been a marked return in recent years to the traditional type of Christmas in which the family celebrates and worships together.

Whether it's gathering the evergreen tree from a forest or buying it at a store, whether it's planning a quiet but festive observance or entertaining the neighborhood — the family now enjoys doing it to the giving more than ever.

It's Living the Year 'Round

And this tightening of family ties doesn't just occur any more with Christmas Eve and depart before New Year's. The Christmas spirit, more and more, is living the whole year around.

Why?

It's a paradox of our times that automation — an unhomelike word if there ever was one — is putting fresh meaning into family life.

With push - button equipment taking over many of the jobs that used to make the homemaker a drudge, she is freed to make many more personal contributions to the family welfare.

But modern appliances have their greatest appeal in making the kitchen the most lived-in room in the house.

To most home - lovers, it's secondary that scientific advances have given them an almost unlimited staff of mechanical servants to do kitchen and laundry work efficiently and quickly with little human effort involved. What really matters to them is how the family is being reunited as perhaps never before.

Family Room Is Back

In line with this recognized trend, house planning has brought back the "family room." It's either a part of the kitchen area or next to it, separated only by room dividers or cabinets.

Gone are the cold, clinical-looking kitchens in which the housewife stayed only long enough to get the work done — and practically nobody else ever entered. Now kitchens manned by silent, untiring appliances, are centers of family activity.

In many of the newest smaller homes being built, there are no dining rooms on the blueprints. Instead, big kitchens are dining rooms — and living rooms, too.

Kitchens now include laundry, sewing center, hobby corner, workbench, children's play pen, food bar, breakfast nook — all blended into the decor and appliance layout with harmony and taste.

Again the kitchen is the heart of the home as it used to be in grandma's day, and on back in history. Home is where the hearth is, the modern American family is rediscovering.

So make it an old-fashioned — and new-fashioned — Christmas this year. Let the family have fun in the kitchen sharing the hundreds of happy things to do there.

The family can share, too, in its giving.

The best things come in big packages — modern kitchen appliances that make living happier for everyone.

Investment in Happiness

They may arrive to the sound of sleighbells in the frosty, early morning air as Santa makes his rounds. Or the sound may be a truck's horn, a Santa's helper, your local appliance dealer, makes delivery. But in either case, the gift will make Christmas the gala occasion it should be.

When you unveil your new appliances this Yuletide, remember that they're more than just attractive, efficient workhorses. They're an investment in happiness for you and your whole family.

Small chickens that are to be broiled should be split into halves lengthwise; the backbone, neck and keel bone should be removed.

Here's Why Appliances In Demand

AUTOMATIC WASHERS

A survey conducted by a manufacturer's home economics laboratory showed that a family wash of five eight-pound loads can be done by an operator of average skill in 27 minutes of the operator's time — 5.4 minutes per load. This is only 10 per cent of the energy and 15 per cent of the time required by other home laundry methods. The tests also indicated that home-washed linens and clothing last from 33 1-3 per cent to 100 per cent longer than those commercially laundered.

AUTOMATIC DRYERS

The same survey showed that use of a dryer saves a total of three hours per week formerly spent in hanging, sprinkling and ironing clothes. It also eliminates labor involved in carrying 90 and 120 pounds of clothes to and from the clothesline. Dryer-dried clothes and household linens also last longer than those line-dried, with better retention of fabric color and texture, less loss of tensile strength. With drying time shortened and drying made independent of weather, fewer clothes and linens are required.

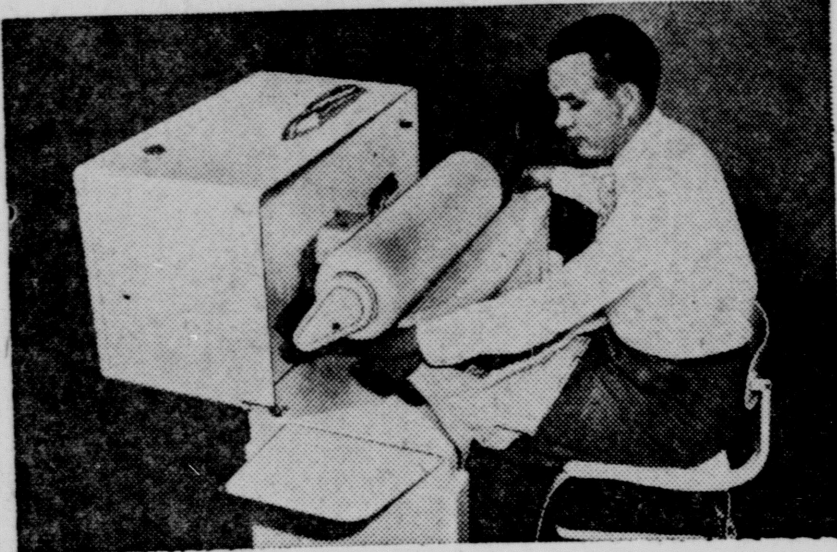

AUTOMATIC DISHWASHERS

The research showed that for the average family, about five minutes are required to prepare dishes and load a dishwasher, compared with 35 minutes needed to scrape, rinse, dry and put away dishes when the work is done by hand. Breakage of china and glassware is reduced. Use of dishcloths and dishtowels is almost eliminated.

HOME FREEZERS

The company's studies indicated that food preservation by freezers requires only half as much time as canning. Time and energy are saved by fewer shopping trips. Foods can be cooked and frozen when time is available. With both fresh and cooked frozen foods on hand, meals can be prepared quickly and easily. Money can be saved by buying food in quantities, taking advantage of sales and of low seasonal prices. Food preparation costs and food wastes are reduced by wise use of plan-overs and left-overs.

Even Dad Can Iron His Shirts

HUSBAND-PROOF—It's Christmas Eve and all through the house not a creature is stirring but this husband, trying out the new ironer he bought for his wife. He just wanted to make sure his gift would be the best. (P.S. When he finished ironing this shirt, he was convinced.)

Many housewives are so bedazzled by the automatic efficiency of the sparkling washer and dryer in their laundryroom they have forgotten that ironing plays a big part in gracious living.

Who can deny that a bed made with freshly ironed sheets has a look of luxury obtained in no other way? How much prouder do you feel when your guest towels have the crispness only ironing can give them?

You may be surprised to know that these symbols of a truly distinguished home can be obtained without a return to the drudgery that once was associated with them. A homemaker who is determined to retain graciousness while protecting her own precious time can find the answer she searches for in an automatic ironer.

With an ironer, she can enjoy smooth linens and towels throughout the house with only a few minutes of extra work. These are flatwork items which even a beginner can do quickly and perfectly on an ironer.

It is important to remember that flatwork can represent 70 per cent of a load of ironing in the average home.

For those who are willing to acquire a new skill, there is the further reward of being able to give all the family's clothing a professional finish with a minimum of work.

The most popular ironer is the cabinet style, with clean-looking white enamel finish. Some have

FOR HER BIGGEST CHRISTMAS EVER...

Make it a White Christmas ...give her a Major Appliance

Message for Men Only!

You've got the greatest wife in the world... right? She's pretty, sweet, smart, loving, a good cook... right? So what are you going to give her for Christmas this year... to show her how much you appreciate her?

Some trifle she'll never notice? Something she'll have to exchange? A few leaves of folding money as impersonal as a government loan, and as cold as the guest room sheets?

No, man! Don't do it! Give her something special this year. Something she'll really go for in a big way. Give her a major appliance!

That's a gift she'll be glad to get... and one you'll be proud to give. For it saves her work, worry, steps and money. It gives her more leisure, more fun, the priceless gift of extra time!

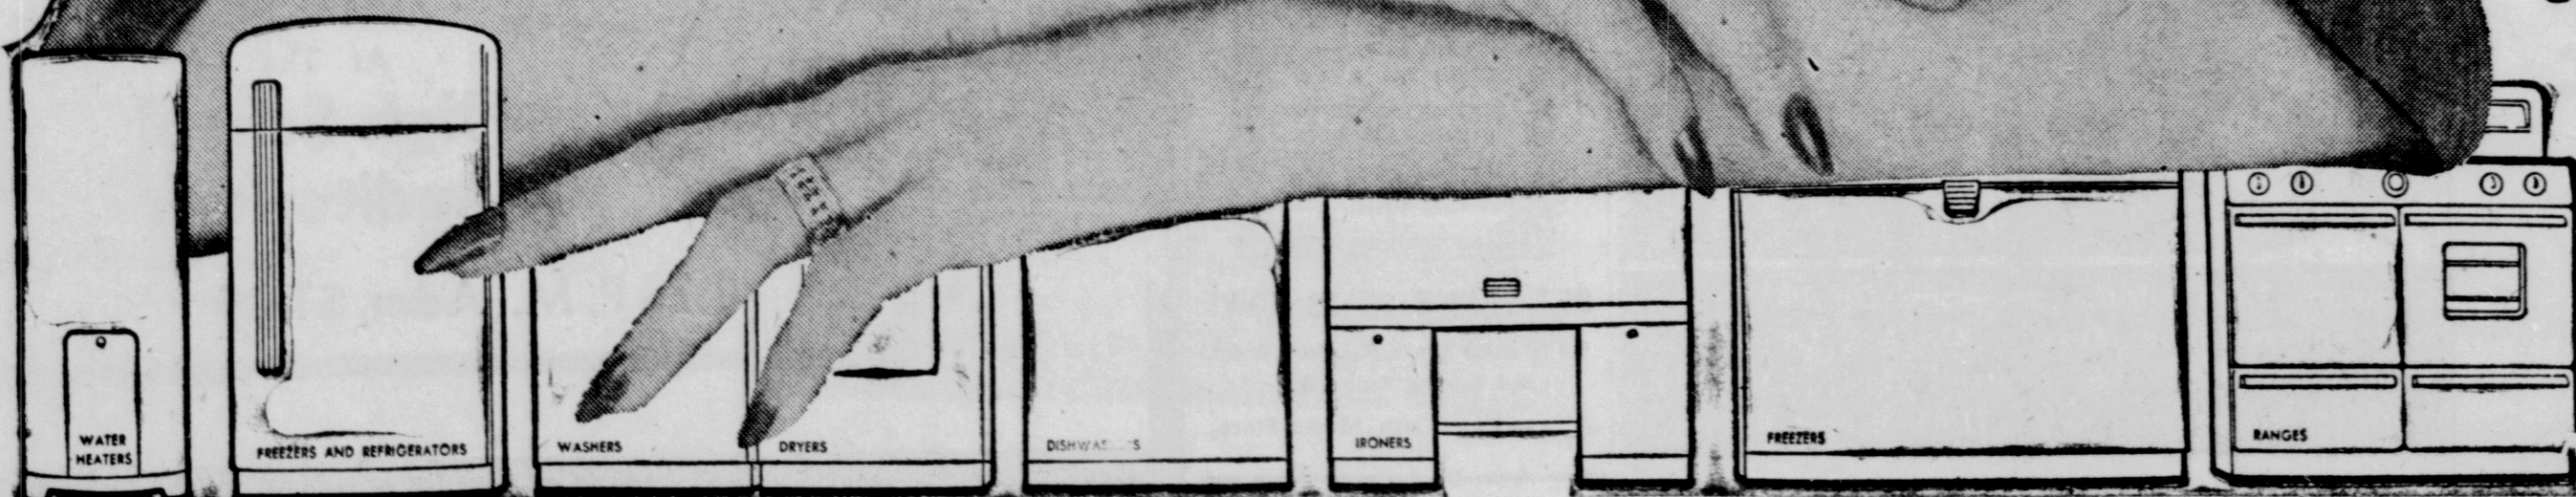

So make it a white Christmas (or a bright one, if you'd rather; there are some beautiful colored appliances, now). Choose a washer, dryer, ironer, refrigerator, range, dishwasher, freezer, water heater or cabinet sink. Have it delivered to her by Christmas, with love, from you to her.

Go to your appliance dealer today... pick out a new way of life for your wife!

Church Makes $1 Land Offer To School Board

Bob Engel, chairman of the board of trustees of the First Christian Church, today announced a tentative proposal for the sale of a portion of the church's building site on E. Sixth St. to the Board of Education for a token fee of $1.00.

Several months prior to the announcement of the proposed location for the new high school, the congregation of the Christian Church approved the purchase of an 11-acre tract of land in the E. Sixth St. area. This tract lies along the north side of E. Fifth St., east of Hawley Ave. and extends 180 feet north of the north side of E. Sixth St. It includes a 60-foot lot fronting on N. Union Ave. which makes possible the extension of Sixth St. to Union.

Engel stated that while the church definitely did not purchase this property as a speculative investment, the original intent was to extend Sixth St. straight through to Union and sell the frontage on the north side of the street for building lots to defray costs of the new street.

Hope to Curve Street

However, following the purchase by the Board of Education of the new school site, the feasibility of curving Sixth St. to the north was considered. At a meeting of the church's architects and a Christian Church consulting architect from Indianapolis several months ago, it was agreed that a curved street would provide motorists with a better view of both new structures and would perhaps tend to reduce speeding in the area.

Church trustees have estimated the cost of grading and paving the new street to be $20,000. They pointed out that since the church building program would not be undertaken for some time the trustees were unwilling to spend any money for street improvements at this time. Engel further stated that since the land owned by the church on the north side of Sixth St. is essential to the school building program, the church trustees had proposed the sale of a curved Sixth St. right of way and the needed land north of the street to the Board of Education for $1.00.

This proposal would be contingent upon a written guarantee from the Board of Education that the street would be graded and paved at no further expense to the church. Engel emphasized, however, that any agreements between the two boards would have to be submitted to the Christian Church congregation for final approval.

Tentative church plans provide for the construction of a new $300,000 church edifice on the south side of E. Sixth St. opposite of the new high school building. Parking areas and outdoor youth recreational facilities are planned for utilization of acreage not required for the church building.

Glenn L. Davis is chairman of the church building committee. Other church trustees are L. D. Beardmore, H. M. Butcher, Kenneth Zeigler and Fred Schramm.

Election Monologue

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Monologue of a middle-aged man in the street: Well, the election is over, and if these were normal times the country would be safe for another four years. But today nothing really seems safe from change for even the next four minutes.

The world used to operate on a sensible basis. It would have a big depression every 10 years, and a big war every 20 or 25 years. This gave people time in-between to make love or look up at the stars for comfort.

A man don't mind so much getting an ulcer from earning a living, paying off his mortgage, and keeping his kids in school and out of jail. It's the extra ulcer he gets that bothers him, the one caused by his monotonous mental diet, a diet of crises. You get a warmed-over old crisis for breakfast, a half-baked later crisis for lunch, and a brand new completely raw crisis for dinner. The mind simply can't stomach them all.

If it ain't a crisis over maybe the hydrogen bomb will fall, it's a crisis over maybe the cost of living will go up. Even the weather is a crisis. The climate is getting warmer and in another 10,000 years (just when I finally finish paying off my house) the country may be one vast desert, and what'll that do to property values?

Then there's always the crisis over peace. World peace seems to be pretty much like prosperity in America—it isn't a fixed thing, but is based on the installment plan.

Russia moves tanks into Hungary to preserve freedom and soon the only free Hungarians in the country are those too dead to realize the wonder of it. Then Russia threatens to put the muscle on Britain, France, and Israel in order to preserve peace in Egypt. But Britain, France and Israel don't see the logic of that at all. What are they already busy fighting for in Egypt? Why, to preserve the peace, of course.

The Egyptians, too, are fighting to preserve peace with an army developed probably for just that purpose. What puzzles me is whether peace can stand much

Fines, Bond Forfeits Here Total $1,467

Thirty persons were fined or forfeited bonds totaling $1,467 for traffic violations Monday night and Tuesday, Mayor Dean B. Cramer reported yesterday.

Fined or forfeiting bonds for trucking overload charges were: Houston E. Higgins, 36, Akron, $25; Guy H. Hain, 28, New Castle, Pa., $46; Louis V. Cresanta, 38, Akron, $57; Lloyd V. Sommers, 40, Medina, $25; Kenneth Gustavel, 43, Alliance, $48.

Others cited for overload charges which totaled $1,347 for the two days were: William Doran, 43, Clinton, Pa., $25; Frank Lopacki, 40, Cleveland, $25; Leo J. Vaiculis, 38, Manchester, Conn., $25; Scott C. King, 37, Lincoln Park, Mich., $33; Richard K. Voltenbacher, 26, Fort Wayne, Ind., $25.

Dick Gasser, 18, Lodi, $100; Daniel Wier, 40, Pittsburgh, $25; J. C. Snyder, 24, Hackettstown, N.J., $25; Arthur Kaerberlein, 41, Erie, Pa., $53; Robert C. Thomas, 31, Pittsburgh, $25; Gerald M. Simari, 21, Hillsville, Pa., $25.

Willins W. Tucker, 33, Columbia Station, $364; Franklin Zurbrugg, 48, Alliance, $25; and Edward P. Hess, 23, Erie, Pa., $25.

Those fined or forfeiting bonds totaling $120 for other traffic violations were: Henry Matras, 29, Vanderbilt, Pa., $10, overlength; G. Floyd Smalley Jr., 21, Depot Road, Salem, $25, no operator's license; Dick Gasser, 18, Lodi, $10, no tax stamp; Albert Dalton, 29, Waynesburg, $50, employing unlicensed chauffeur; Charles Connor, 31, Maryland, $10, no mud flaps; and Burdette F. Solomon, 20, RD 2, Salem, $15, failing to stop in assured clear distance ahead.

DIES FOLLOWING FALL

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—One man was killed and another man was injured Tuesday as a result of falls at the Chrysler plant being built at nearby Twinsburg.

Summit County Coroner William J. Pittenger said Henry Hunter,

28, of North Olmstead, fell 65 feet from a low truss into a pit, striking an abutment on the way down. Hunter died a few hours later in St. Thomas Hospital here. Olan E. Cosgrove, 28, of Bedford, apparently became startled at seeing Hunter's plunge, witnesses said, and he fell about 15 feet.
